Rich in gluten, the life-giving principle of flour. Made of the cream of over 9,000,000 bushels of the famous No. 1 Hard Spring Wheat, the finest in the world, grown in the limitless wheat fields of Minnesota and the Dakotas; ground in the finest and largest stone mill in the world, by the most modern machinery; absolutely more whole and makes 29 loaves of the most perfect, "best" bread, to the barrel than any other flour. Better than any of the so-called "best" flours. Actual tests show that 15 lbs. of this flour will make 25 lbs. of "best" bread, retaining the moisture longer than any winter wheat bread. Inquire at any grocer's for a full list of having it. The cheapest because the best. Any fair trial will convince you of the absolute perfection of this flour.

THE ESTATE IS A MYST.
Polish Families at Little Falls Excelled Over Prospective Fortune.
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—On March 15, 1890, the Gonio Wielkopolski, of Posen, published an article that has caused several uprisings of the Moscovskis and Lowik families. The article said that Sir Glin, of New York, United States of America, had married a wealthy Prussian lady in foreign land, and as he had died without offspring, his estate of $1,500,000 would revert to the heirs of his wife who belonged to the Moscovskis and Lowik families.
Now it is true that Mr. Glin, who was chief clerk at Castle Garden died several years ago; but it is not true that he ever married a wealthy Polish lady. While Mr. Glin was still healthy about ten years ago, a practical joker sent to a New York newspaper the story that Mr. Glin had married a Polish lady worth $1,500,000.
The story got out to Little Falls, Minn., several weeks ago. There are some Moscovskis and Lowiks there and they immediately came up. Donald Trettle, probate judge of Morrison county, of which Little Falls is part, last week wrote a letter to Father Callaghan which was turned over last night to the Ellis island authorities. Judge Trettle wants to know for the benefit of his clients when "Sir Glin" died and what he really left in Poland. The judge encloses in his letter a translated copy of the article.

NOW THE BILLS.

The Pet Measures of the Legislators Now Being Presented in the Senate and House.

Two Bills Introduced in the Senate to Put an End to the Russian Thistle.

Bill for a Constitutional Amendment to Authorize Taxation of Property of Sleeping Car Companies.

The Senatorial Contest Continues With Unabated Vigor and a Republican Caucus Now Considered Likely.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—The house was late this morning, Speaker Van Sant's gavel calling to order at 9:45 o'clock. After the reading of the journal the speaker announced, as the committee on rules and joint rules, Messrs. Anderson, Staples, Kelly, Robbins and Reeves, and asked that they meet with him as soon as possible to complete their work. Mr. Staples introduced a resolution to authorize the purchase of supplies, which passed. Mr. Feig presented a resolution to notify the senate that the house has now ready for the joint session which was adopted.

At 10:15 the lieutenant governor and senators appeared at the door of the house and took their seats in the chairs provided. The clerk called the roll of the two houses and at 10:27 by the house clock, his excellency appeared and was escorted to the speaker's desk. After being formally sworn in by Chief Justice Start, Governor Nelson read his biennial message.

(It will be found on the second page.) After the reading of the message and the return of the senate to its own place the speaker appointed Messrs. Jones, of Redwood, Jerlach, and Zier, a committee on mileage and the house adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In the senate work was begun more promptly than in the larger and more slow moving lower house. Five bills were introduced before the joint session.

Senate file No. 1 was by Senator Ozma of Ramsey county, and it amends the military code of the state by providing for the purchase of uniforms, and appropriating $10,000 for the purchase of service uniforms. Referred to committee on military affairs.

Senator Overstreet introduced a bill for the appointment of deputy village clerks and recorders and defines their duties. It went to the joint session the introduction of bills continued. Senate file No. 6 by Senator Miller, is another Russian thistle bill which declares the thistle to be a common nuisance and provides that it shall be treated as such, and those allowing its continued existence shall be punished for not suppressing the nuisance. It went to the agriculture committee.

Senator Allen, of Cloquet, presented senate file No. 7 which provides for the taxation of all railroad lands in like manner as all other lands are taxed. It excepts rights-of-way, gravel pits, yards, etc., from the provisions of the act. This bill is to be submitted to the people of the state for their approval or rejection. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

Lieutenant Governor Clough announced Senators Day, Collier and McLean previous to adjournment for the day the contest papers in the case of Probstfield vs. Smith were filed with the secretary of the senate.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

Several Important Measures Introduced in the Senate.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—Several important bills were introduced in the senate today. Senator Severson, Populist senator from Jackson county, introduced a bill to exterminate the Russian thistle. It provides that each property owner shall exterminate all such weeds found on his own property or pay a fine of $100 for failing to do so. A supervisor shall do like work along the roadways and on state lands, and also see that the work is properly done on the private lands.

ON ARBITRATION.

Members of Congress Who Favor the Arbitration Bill Disappointed by Attitude of Those Affected.

No Response From Any of the People Who Were Invited to Present Their Views.

Democratic Leaders of the Senate Much at Sea Over Amendments to the Tariff Law.

The Pressure Upon the House Pensions Committee to Secure Legislation Is Becoming Very Clamorous.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Disappointment is varied by the members of the house who favor the arbitration bill over the lack of interest manifested by the parties most affected by it. Before the holidays invitations were sent to many prominent labor leaders, officials of railroad organizations and railroad magnates to present their views to the committee on labor. No response has yet been received from any of these men, so that the hearings which were to have begun this week and were expected to be interesting and valuable sessions will probably be abandoned.

Chairman McLean will bring the bill up in committee for a vote, however, and obtain an expression upon it. McGann says that the labor leaders he has talked with are not strongly in favor of the measure. They express distrust of two features of it, the establishment of a permanent commission and the authority given the courts to enforce the judgments of the commission.

Objection to the first provision is that salaried commissioners may find it more to their interest to favor railroad corporations than the workmen and may become biased by these circumstances. The power given to the courts is said to be of compulsory arbitration, which is generally unpopular with workmen, although the decrees would be enforced for a short time. There is a possibility that the bill will be reported to the house in amended form.

The Democratic leaders of the senate are very much at sea over the question of amendments to the tariff which they had hoped to accomplish by means of riders on the urgent deficiency bill. They have very generally come to the conclusion that the Republicans have decided not to be persuaded into allowing these amendments to go through and they know now, as they knew in the beginning, that it would be futile to attempt to pass them in the face of any determined opposition.

They have not, however, given up the idea of making an effort to do something, and trying to find a means of moving, even though the result may be nothing more than a demonstration that the Republicans are to blame for the failure to secure the desired corrections. They have apparently abandoned the idea of amending the proposed bill by tariff provisions and are now considering the advisability of introducing independent measures.

If this course is adopted, it will be that the independent bills shall be first introduced in the house because of the constitutional requirements that revenue bills shall originate in the house, and it is understood that Chairman Wilson will soon be asked to introduce four or five corrective bills there, unless the Republican senators show a disposition to relent.

These bills would repeal the clause of the sugar duty imposing an additional 10 per cent of a cent on sugar imported from countries paying an export bounty, repeal the free alcohol provision regarding returns of employees and also in regard to salaries of public officials. It is not known what position Mr. Wilson will take in case this proposition is made to him.

A marked change in the attitude in the house last session toward private pensions has been manifested in the six days since the last term, special Friday night sittings were held for consideration of this class of legislation, but so far as results were concerned they were practically fruitless. There was never a quorum in the house on Friday night; the impossibility of passing bills was soon made apparent, so that the sittings became mere formalities, at which members made sport with the rules and tied the house into the parliamentary labyrinths.

Pension legislation has been taken up in a different spirit this winter. Two Friday night sittings have been held and thirty bills have been reported from committees of the house. At the first sitting sixteen bills were reported to the house and fifteen have been passed; the second sitting reported fourteen bills. This progress has been made possible by the adoption of a new plan somewhat reciprocal in its features.

The roll of members is called and each member present, at the call of his name, is permitted to bring up one bill, in which he is interested, which is voted upon after the house has listened to his explanation of its merits and discussed if there is any desire to do so.

The pressure upon the pensions committee to secure legislation is becoming very clamorous, as it always does when the end of Congress approaches and many claimants find their desires still unfulfilled.

NORTH DAKOTA LEGISLATION.

Inaugural Message of Governor Roger Allin Read This Afternoon.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 9.—The inaugural address of Governor Roger Allin, read to the legislature this afternoon, did not deal with the various departments of the state, leaving that to his predecessor. He spoke at some length of the need of conservation in all legislation and said:

"It is to be hoped, gentlemen, that in your intercourse with your constituents you have been impressed with the necessity of an economical session as is compatible with public interests. Being compelled to practice the most rigid economy, on account of financial depression and the low price of their products, they expect a reasonable degree of frugality on the part of their representatives."

He then briefly called attention to the appropriations that are to be made, commended such legislation as may be necessary to provide a system of uniform and free text books for each county in the state. He recommended the extension of suffrage to women in municipal matters at least. The importance of legislation for good roads is urged. A good primary election law is urged to complete the system of the state, which is otherwise considered very good.

Provision for the census of 1895 is urged. He recommended the need of investigation into the possible means of helping those sections that have suffered from the Russian thistle. More general farming is found profitable and its continuance is recommended by state help if necessary. If possible the legislature is asked to further the development of the state coal mines.

THE DULUTH LUMBER DISTRICT.
Conditions Have Been Splendid For Chopping and Skidding.

There is from three to ten inches of snow in the Minnesota woods, with the thermometer ranging from 10 above to 15 below, and with these conditions the best work possible is being accomplished, says the Duluth correspondent of the Northwestern Lumberman. For chopping and skidding loggers could ask for no better conditions, and the weather has been exactly right for making first-class roads. In many of the camps hauling has begun and logs are being banked at a rapid rate. In speaking of the situation yesterday a prominent contractor stated that he does not remember a time in the district when logging could be carried on more economically than at present. While a trifle better to the woodsmen than a year ago, are, nevertheless, within reason, and all manner of supplies upon the average are as cheap or cheaper than a year ago. With the absence of snow to interfere, the men can accomplish at least 25 per cent more work than if the snow lay a foot or two feet on the ground, and in the course of a week this makes a vast difference.

In a general way the same conditions prevail in Northern Wisconsin and along the south shore of Lake Superior in upper Michigan. Especially in Ontonagon county and vicinity, where the Diamond Match company is operating extensively, is everything favorable for logging. Snow there is about a foot deep and streams and streams are solidly frozen. All through that section the work is well in hand and everything is moving smoothly, but the reports which come from the southwestern portion of the district, in Carlton county and about Hinckley are not so favorable.

The Hubbard & Vincent mill has begun its winter campaign and is now running with a full crew. The mill is at work on an order for Richardson & Avery of Sackville, and during the winter will also get out a bill for Loper & Rumery. Two or three of the mills, it is understood, will begin sawing soon and remain in commission until the beginning of the regular spring run.

The open winter has been especially favorable for the large amount of saw mill construction which is going on in the head of the lakes is more active now than it had been any time during the past year. The local yards are all doing a reasonably fair trade at prices which are satisfactory to dealers. The weather is also favorable for the examination of blocks of timber, and scores of land lookers are out. Trade in stumpage during the winter promises to be active, and prices are already a shade higher than they have been for the past twelve months. The advent of new mills is attracting considerable attention to the district, which has awakened a little competition in acquiring stumpage.

On the south shore, or in the Northern Wisconsin district, stumpage in large blocks, convenient to driving streams or railroads, is held at from $2 to $4 a thousand, while in the immediate vicinity of Duluth, on the Minnesota side, prices do not rule on an average quite so high, and timber in logging groups, accessible for manufacture, can be bought at from $210 to $3 a thousand. There is a large amount of pine also in the Duluth district which can be picked up in smaller bunches at from $1.50 to $1.75 a thousand.

The Lake Carriers.
DETROIT, Jan. 9.—The fueling committee of the Lake Carriers' association today reported in favor of an agreement among members not to buy coal from the shippers at Buffalo, but "contracting" instead with dealers who are not shippers where prices may be more satisfactory. The report was adopted and a committee was appointed to carry out its provision.Passed the House.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The diplomatic appropriation bill has passed the house with two amendments providing for two more consuls in Armenia.

SAID BY NELSON.

Review of the Work of Departments and Commissions and Numerous Suggestions of Needed Laws.

The Estimated Receipts and Disbursements of the State for the Next Two Fiscal Years.

On a Tax Levy of 1.5 Mills There Would Be a Surplus of $1,000,000 for New Buildings.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate and house met at 10 o'clock this morning in joint session in the house of representatives to listen to the message of the governor. There was a large attendance of members and many other people were present on the floor of the house, while the gallery was crowded to overflowing. Governor Nelson was heartily applauded when he entered the chamber and took a seat upon the speaker's platform. He read his message in a clear and distinct manner, and there was another outburst of applause at the close. Following is the message in full:

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:—

Conformable to law and custom, I communicate to you by this message the following information and suggestions relative to the affairs and condition of the state.

FOREST FIRES.

In one locality only have our people been visited with any serious calamity. On Sept. 1 last a forest fire broke out in a high wind, destroyed the villages of Hinckley, Sandstone, Sandstone Junction, Pineau, Miller, Pokegama, Partridge and Mission Creek, and devastated a large area of the surrounding country. More than 400 lives were lost, a large number were maimed or crippled for life, more than 2,000 people were left homeless and destitute, and over $1,000,000 worth of property was destroyed. The burned district embraced an area of nearly 400 square miles. On September 1 I issued a proclamation asking for contributions for the relief of the survivors of the fire and appointed commissioners to collect and distribute such contributions and to supervise the entire scheme of relief. The commissioners performed their work with great energy, fairness and diligence. They have collected from voluntary contributors, and disbursed among the survivors the sum of $66,121.50, and finding that still more was urgently needed to complete the work of relief and to provide for the destitute, they borrowed on their own credit the sum of $15,000 and disbursed it, completing the scheme of relief. The commissioners deserve the thanks of our state for procuring this extra amount of money so needful, and I earnestly recommend that you take early steps to suitably reimburse them for the liability thus incurred.

GRAIN INSPECTION.

Two years ago I called the attention of the legislature to the fact that while due provision was made by law for weighing, grading and inspecting grain under state supervision at the terminal markets of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, there was no law on this subject affecting the primary and interior markets of the state, and I suggested the importance of placing the weighing and inspection of grain at interior as well as terminal points, under state supervision and state control. Pursuant to this suggestion, the legislature enacted chapter 36, general laws of 1893, commonly known as the Country Warehouse Law, requiring all grain elevators, other than at the terminal points to take out a state license, declaring them public elevators, and placing them under the jurisdiction and control of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. Since the enactment of this law, all the elevators within its purview have taken licenses and have operated as public elevators, subject to the supervision of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. That this law has been productive of good results is evident from the fact that there have been so few complaints made about the grading and the weighing of grain since the passage of this act.

In several counties of the state the wheat crop was greatly injured by the chinch bug. The drought enabled these insects to do more than ordinary havoc. Dr. Otto Lutzger, entomologist of the state experimental station, made great efforts to stay the destruction by infecting the bugs with the germs of a fatal disease, an experiment that had, in some degree, been tried and found hopeful in other states. To some extent his efforts gave relief, and he could have accomplished much more had he been supplied with ample funds and ample assistance for the emergency.

The chinch bugs are liable to continue with us for years to come and we are likely in the future, as often in the past, to have visitations from the grasshoppers. In view of these facts, I take the liberty of recommending that you make an appropriation of not less than $5,000, available for the purpose of exterminating these and other grain destroying insects, and for the protection of the farmers against the ravages of the same. Such an appropriation should be annual and continuing, with a proviso that any surplus beyond $5,000 should be applied to the general revenue fund, thus preventing any undue accumulation of this fund.

GAME AND FISH LAWS.

The legislature of 1893 codified all our game and fish laws into one act. Many of the more important provisions of the act have been sustained in several well considered cases by our supreme court, as appears from the valuable report of the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners, to which I call your special attention. The board has been very successful in enforcing the law, in its efforts to preserve the fish and game of the state. While the act of 1893 is in most respects a model and very effective, yet in two particulars it is seriously at fault. The period within which ducks and other similar birds may be killed is entirely erroneous, and out of date. This error occurred through accident, and should be promptly corrected. Except as to fishing in international waters, the act is entirely correct, and in all respects it is a model and very effective. I earnestly recommend that you take early steps to suitably reimburse them for the liability thus incurred.

ITASCA STATE PARK.

From the report of the commissioner of Itasca State park, made on Dec. 1 last, it appears that the state has acquired the ownership and control of 10,779 acres within the limits of the park, and that there are still within those limits 5,829 acres, owned by private parties and scattered in tracts of various sizes among the state lands, that ought to be acquired by the state.

These lands can be obtained neither by purchase nor by condemnation proceedings until the necessary funds are provided for the purpose. I earnestly recommend that you appropriate sufficient funds to acquire these lands by purchase or condemnation.

WORLD'S FAIR.

The Minnesota State Board of World's Fair Managers have made and filed their final report, with accompanying vouchers and receipts, from which it appears they have received and disbursed the following sums:

Receipts. Legislative appropriation, 1891, $20,000.00. Legislative appropriation, 1893, 100,000.00. Received for interest on deposits of special treasurer, 1,129.55. Received for interest on deposits of general treasurer, 570.44. Received from all other sources, as per detailed report, 1,826.67. Net receipts, $153,526.76.

Disbursements. For World's Fair purposes, as per vouchers and receipts, $137,707.33. Unexpended balance returned to treasury, 15,000.00. Balance retained for printing and distributing final report, 769.23. Total, $153,476.56.

The board performed their work with fidelity and energy. We are under great obligation to this board and to the ladies' auxiliary board for their gratuitous, zealous and efficient services.

THE NEW CAPITOL.

The legislature of 1893 passed an act to provide for the appointment of seven sub-

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Since this suggestion, the legislature enacted chapter 36, general laws of 1893, commonly known as the Country Warehouse Law, requiring all grain elevators, other than at the terminal points to take out a state license, declaring them public elevators, and placing them under the jurisdiction and control of the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners. SPECIAL INQUIRY TO CROPS.

In several counties of the state the wheat crop was greatly injured by the chinch bug. The drought enabled these insects to do more than ordinary havoc. Dr. Otto Lutzger, entomologist of the state experimental station, made great efforts to stay the destruction by infecting the bugs with the germs of a fatal disease, an experiment that had, in some degree, been tried and found hopeful in other states. ITASCA STATE PARK.

From the report of the commissioner of Itasca State park, made on Dec. 1 last, it appears that the state has acquired the ownership and control of 10,779 acres within the limits of the park, and that there are still within those limits 5,829 acres, owned by private parties and scattered in tracts of various sizes among the state lands, that ought to be acquired by the state.

These lands can be obtained neither by purchase nor by condemnation proceedings until the necessary funds are provided for the purpose. I earnestly recommend that you appropriate sufficient funds to acquire these lands by purchase or condemnation.

WORLD'S FAIR.

The Minnesota State Board of World's Fair Managers have made and filed their final report, with accompanying vouchers and receipts, from which it appears they have received and disbursed the following sums:

Receipts. Legislative appropriation, 1891, $20,000.00. Legislative appropriation, 1893, 100,000.00. Received for interest on deposits of special treasurer, 1,129.55. Received for interest on deposits of general treasurer, 570.44. Received from all other sources, as per detailed report, 1,826.67. Net receipts, $153,526.76.

Disbursements. For World's Fair purposes, as per vouchers and receipts, $137,707.33. Unexpended balance returned to treasury, 15,000.00. Balance retained for printing and distributing final report, 769.23. Total, $153,476.56.

The board performed their work with fidelity and energy. We are under great obligation to this board and to the ladies' auxiliary board for their gratuitous, zealous and efficient services.

THE NEW CAPITOL.

The legislature of 1893 passed an act to provide for the appointment of seven sub-purpose. Pursuant to such direction and authority, I employed counsel and instituted legal proceedings, in behalf of the state, against C. A. Smith & Co. to annul the sale and to recover pay for the timber already cut. In this action judgment was rendered in favor of the state, and the sum of $10,302.55 damages, interest and costs, and the sale as to the timber tract, which was upwards of two-thirds of the entire lot, was annulled. Out of the amount recovered I expended the sum of $2,240 in attorney's fees, costs and disbursements, and paid the balance, amounting to $8,062.55 into the state treasury.

Pursuant to joint resolution No. 5 of the legislature of 1893, a committee of three members of the senate and four members of the house was appointed to investigate all funds committed in despoiling the public lands of the state of their timber. By provisions of the same resolution, the governor was also directed to investigate and examine school lands containing pine timber or which had theretofore contained such timber.

The committee has proceeded and made great progress with the work devolved upon it by said resolution, and the report of the committee, which contains a detailed account of its work and many valuable and important recommendations and suggestions, will be submitted to the legislature at its next session.

James McHenry, of Fairmont, Second district. George A. DuToit, of Chaska, Third district. Channing Seabury, of St. Paul, Fourth district. John De Laitre, of Minneapolis, Fifth district. Charles H. Graves, of Duluth, Sixth district.

E. E. Corliss, of Fergus Falls, Seventh district. A total appropriation of $2,000,000 was made to be provided by a tax levy of two tenths of a mill upon the assessed valuation of the state each year, not exceeding five years.

The board organized May 12, 1893, and have been diligently engaged in the prosecution of their duties. They have purchased a commanding site for the new building, payable out of the appropriation available during 1893, 1894, 1895 and 1896, at a total cost of about $265,000. It is situated at the head of Washburn street, in St. Paul, about four blocks from the site of the present capitol.

The board has recently received competitive designs from architects from different parts of the country, and are now engaged in the selection of one to be adopted for the new building. The work of constructing a new capitol has been entered upon at a time when both labor and material are exceptionally low priced, and hence the building can be erected at less cost to the state now than under former conditions. I regard the enterprise as a necessary undertaking, and refer you to the report of the board of state capitol commissioners for further information concerning it.

SALE OF PINE STUMPAGE.

In connection with this subject I cannot forbear to call your attention to the unsatisfactory character of the law as to the sale of pine stumps. No timber other than the highest bidder's stumpage, and pine timber can only be sold after a board, composed of the governor, state auditor and state treasurer, has determined whether a given tract of pine is liable to be cut or not. In my opinion, it would be well, if the governor and state treasurer are to have anything to do with the disposal of pine stumps, that they be empowered to acquire in adequate means for obtaining information through the channels of their own office, to the end that these officers may be able to check upon another and upon the state auditor, and to the end that the state may have the benefit of the independent and well advised judgment of each of them.

Our supply of pine is year by year growing less and we cannot exercise too much care in disposing of the residue. In this connection I earnestly recommend that you take early steps to suitably reimburse them for the liability thus incurred.

DAIRY AND FOOD COMMISSION.

The report of the dairy and food commission shows that energetic and careful efforts, going with considerable success, have been made to check the sale of adulterated milk, and to the end that the state may have the benefit of the independent and well advised judgment of each of them.

Our supply of pine is year by year growing less and we cannot exercise too much care in disposing of the residue. In this connection I earnestly recommend that you take early steps to suitably reimburse them for the liability thus incurred.

COAL COMBINE INVESTIGATION.

Pursuant to a resolution of the legislature of 1893, a committee of three senators and six representatives was appointed to investigate unlawful combinations among producers, carriers and dealers, enhancing the price of coal to the consumer. The committee, in proceeding with the work of investigation, through its agents, obtained the possession of certain books and papers of J. J. Rhodes, the alleged manager of an organization of coal dealers, without his consent and against his protest. Mr. Rhodes thereupon instituted an action against the committee and its agents to recover $50,000 damages for the taking and detention of the books and papers. The legislature thereupon passed an act appropriating $20,000 to pay the expenses of such litigation and to pay any judgment that might be recovered against the defendants or any of them. Mr. Rhodes has, finally, after the action referred to had been tried and appealed to the supreme court, dismissed the same as to all the defendants, thereby substantially terminating the litigation. There has been expended out of the appropriation of $20,000 the sum of $1,531.85 for attorney's fees, costs and disbursements in the case of Rhodes and in the efforts to procure his indictment, leaving an unexpended balance of $18,468.15, that should be covered into the general revenue fund by appropriate legislation.

PINE STUMPAGE AND PUBLIC LANDS.

A resolution of the legislature of 1893 directed me to make a judicial investigation of the sale of pine stumps upon section 36, township 42 of range 36, Miller Lake county, made by the state auditor to C. A. Smith & Co., and authorized me to employ counsel and incur expenditures for that purpose.

The legislature of 1893, upon condition that the Great Northern railway company would contribute one-fourth of that amount, appropriated the sum of $100,000 for the purpose of draining the Red River valley by opening closed water courses leading into the Red river and by opening up the existing streams in the valley. The Great Northern railway company has complied with the condition aforesaid and has contributed its share, which has made $25,000 available each year. Pursuant to the terms of the act making the appropriation, Ezra G. Valentine and S. D. Miller were appointed, with the governor, secretary of state as a board of audit, to initiate, carry on and complete the work of drainage. This board, in 1893, let contracts for the drainage ditch in Marshall county and the Sand Hill river ditch in Polk county. The former is 7.4 miles long, 20 feet wide, and has a depth of 4.12 feet and cost $21,458.01. The latter is of the same width, 7 miles long, of an average depth of five feet and cost $23,774.75. These ditches were finished in the spring of 1894 and have drained, reclaimed and restored to a tillable state thousands of acres of wet, swampy and overgrown lands of the richest and most fertile in the valley. A part of these lands are owned by the state, and these have, in consequence of the drainage, become valuable in value to an extent exceeding the amount of money expended by the state.

In 1894 the board let contracts for the drainage ditch in Traverse county, the Burnip ditch in Norman county, the Snake River ditch in Polk county and the Kennedy ditch in Kitson county. The Snake River ditch is finished. The other ditches are incomplete and will not be finished until next summer and fall. These ditches will drain and reclaim a vast area of overgrown and wet lands, some of which are owned by the state.

There is still a considerable amount of drainage that ought to be undertaken by the state. Of this perhaps the most extensive and important is the opening of the Middle river, near Argyle, in Marshall county. The straightening and diking of the Otter Tail river in Wilkin county, and the opening of the Rabbit river in Grant county, are also works of great importance and are required to complete this system of drainage and I am confident that the state will find it to its advantage and with better results than for this purpose.

BANKS AND LOAN AND TRUST COMPANIES.

It is the duty of the public examiner, under existing laws, to examine into the affairs and ascertain the financial condition of banks, savings associations and loan and trust companies, and to report the same to the governor, with such recommendations and suggestions as he may deem proper. However precarious the condition of the bank may be, about all the governor is specifically authorized to do on receiving such report is to publish the same. This, in case of banks or loan and trust companies that are insolvent or that have impaired their capital, is wholly inadequate. The powers of the public examiner should be so enlarged, by appropriate legislation, that in case he ascertains that any bank or loan or trust company is insolvent, or has impaired its capital, or is in a state of insolvency, it should be his duty and he should have the power to require the stockholders and officers of such bank or loan or trust company, upon reasonable notice, to be designated by him, to replace the capital of the bank, or in case of failure to do so, to have a receiver appointed to adjust the affairs of the bank or company in the interest of depositors or stockholders.

The governor also recommends that the bank examiner be required to report only insolvent and wrongly managed financial institutions, instead of good and bad, as now required.

In view of the fact that the provisions of our banking law are centered through a number of separately enacted statutes, not as harmonious as could be desired, I would suggest the importance of having these laws consolidated and enacted into one homogeneous act.

From the report of the public examiner, it appears that during the year 1893, seven banks failed, and were assigned to receivers appointed, and in every instance this condition was brought about by the unwarranted acts of the officers in making excessive loans upon insufficient securities, or in making undue or excessive loans to themselves or the directors of the bank. The law should be so amended as to prohibit the making of such loans, and all officers violating such law, whether intentionally or through carelessness, should be held civilly and criminally liable for all loss or damage.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

The importance of securing a more uniform, more complete and well guarded system of municipal government for our state is evident and pressing. There seems to be two methods in vogue in establishing city governments. By one the legislative department of the state government prescribes and enacts in detail the entire scheme and plan of municipal government. By the other plan, the officers of this city are left to perfect and adopt their own municipal system. The latter plan is of more recent origin, but has proved quite satisfactory where tried. In view of the large surplus in the general revenue fund, it is evident that a considerable reduction in the levy of taxes for general revenue purposes is warranted. I accordingly recommend that such levy do not exceed the sum of one and four tenths of a mill on the dollar of taxable property.

STATE PRISON.

There is room at the state prison for 380 convicts. On Dec. 10, 1894, there were 537 convicts in confinement, of which 83 were United States prisoners, for which the state is paid at the rate of 40 cents per day for each man. There is room in the prison to meet and cover the increase in our prison population during the next two, and perhaps three years.

At my suggestion, contained in a special message, the legislature of 1893 applied the parole law and the so-called reformatory plan to the state prison. Two years of experience and observation have demonstrated the wisdom of making this change. The manufacture of prison furniture, while it has entailed no direct loss, has indirectly been of great benefit to the agricultural interests of the state. The prison twine has been a good product, and has been furnished to them at near cost, and has been one of the chief means of reducing the price of twine 25 per cent below the rate formerly charged by the great twine trust. In order to successfully continue with the manufacture of twine, the state should procure as soon as may be suitable hard frame machinery, in order that twine may be made from the cheaper and much more desirable fibers. Such machinery, with a capacity of from 1,000 to 10,000 pounds per day, can be obtained at a price not exceeding $24,000. There is a balance of $15,000 remaining in the treasury, unexpended of the amount appropriated for the purchase of our present twine plant. I recommend that this balance, with an additional sum of $9,000 be appropriated and set apart for the purchase of suitable hard frame machinery for our twine plant.

Under existing law, only one-half of the prison labor can be leased at contract and only for a term not exceeding two years. These restrictions have proved an embarrassing, especially now since the Minnesota Thresher company, which employed one-half of the prison labor, has gone out of business. The abandonment of the company of its manufacturing enterprise left 350 convicts on our hands. After much effort, the managers have succeeded in finding employment for about 200 men in the manufacture of boots and shoes, under a two years contract, at 50 cents per day for each man. But still less than 150 convicts are provided for. In view of these facts and conditions, I encourage in the recommendation of the board of managers that in respect to contract labor, the restriction of numbers be entirely removed, and that the limitation of time be extended to 10 years.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

The growth of our state university in numbers and in the enlargement of its scope of work and field of instruction has within the last 10 years, been exceedingly rapid and beyond expectation. There are now enrolled and attending the university in its various schools and departments an aggregate of 2,050 students. This rapid and unusual growth and expansion has been caused by the inevitable expenditures to outrun the appropriations and in consequence the university is at present hampered with a small deficiency. Inasmuch as there are available funds in the treasury, I recommend that you make a special appropriation at an early day to meet this deficiency.

The university is in urgent need of more buildings. A gymnasium and drill hall, a mechanic's art building, including room of hygiene, including a department of pharmacy, and suitable quarters for the state board of health, an addition to the dairy school and a dormitory and boarding hall at the school of agriculture are all urgently needed, and should be provided for by suitable appropriations. The library building will be completed during the present year and will afford ample room for study and research. But our supply of books is very limited and a large addition to the library is urgently called for by the Industries Are Pretty Dull at the Present Time But See Good Times Before Them.

The Marinette Iron Works Makes a Sale Occasionally and Is Receiving Considerable Repair Work.

Duluth Manufacturing Company Is Bidding on a Contract Which Would Employ Many Men.

Dullness is the proper word to express the state of the industrial interests of West Duluth although there is a slight parting of the clouds which foretells brighter hopes for the immediate future. The Marinette company yesterday sold a No. 3 Prescott band mill to W. R. Durfee, of Ashland, Wis. Considerable repair work is also coming in and the outlook is reported much better for the future. The works are running now on an eight hour schedule but a change will be made to ten hours as soon as work warrants the change.

The Duluth Manufacturing company is not running with a large force at the present time but they have sent in a bid on a lot of about 600 cars, which contract they are pretty sure of securing at their figures. The result will be known within a fortnight at least and if captured by the Duluth company will employ 300 or more men for a period of several months.

Duluth Press Was Made the Official Paper of the County.

The county commissioners reconvened this morning and finished their business for this meeting. The principal matter was the award of the county printing, which was made to the Duluth Press, which is published by C. W. P. Cody.

By a remarkable coincidence he received three out of the five votes, just as most of those elected yesterday did.

The salary of W. H. Stultz, county superintendent of schools, was raised from $1200 to $1500 per year.

Most of the outside assistants to the superintendent of poor and the county physician were reappointed. Dr. J. B. Noble at Tower, Dr. Shipman at Ely, C. W. Miller at Virginia, D. J. Rudd at Hibbing, Dr. Humphrey and W. W. Brown at Biwabie are the officers. Dr. J. B. Noble had his salary raised from $300 to $400 per year, and W. W. Brown had his increased from $100 to $120.

DEMANDS SURRENDER.

Receiver Moore Wants John Kennedy to Give Up Possession of the Great Western Plant.

Kennedy Says Proceedings Should be Brought to Determine the Rights of the Parties Concerned.

He Holds the Property Under the United States Court Receivership—Decision in Assessment Cases.

H. B. Moore, district court receiver for the Great Western Manufacturing company, has applied to the district court for an order for John Kennedy, who represents the United States court receiver, to show cause why he should not surrender the plant to the district court receiver. Receiver Moore's affidavit recites that John Kennedy has wrongfully and unlawfully taken possession of the premises, and still continues to hold them, though they have been demanded of him.

Judge Moer issued an order to show cause, which has been argued and taken under advisement. E. H. Fowler, the United States court receiver, in an affidavit says that he is a stranger to the Duluth proceedings, that he holds the property by authority of the United States court, and that if there is any question as to the rights of the parties it should be determined by proper proceedings brought for that purpose.

That is evidently the purpose of these proceedings, and the decision in this matter will determine the rights of the respective receivers. The Marshall-Wells Hardware company has sued Josiah Bondy, Jr., for $37,124 on notes. Judge Moer has filed findings for the appellants in all of the following appeals from assessments levied by the West Duluth village council: Northwestern Loan and Investment company from assessments for improvement of Fourth avenue west; B. H. Wisdom, improvement of Mountain avenue; G. L. Raymond, same; G. L. Raymond, Collingwood avenue; M. H. Norton, Fourth avenue west. The assessments are all adjudged void and the judgments are set aside on the ground that the former were made without regard to benefits.

A FLOURISHING INSTITUTION.

Remarkably Prosperous Career of the Northwestern Benevolent Society of This City.

Yesterday afternoon the third annual meeting of the Northwestern Benevolent society was held at the offices of the society in the Palladio building in this city. V. D. Cliff, the secretary and general manager, submitted the annual report, which shows the affairs of the society to be in a highly gratifying and flourishing condition. A few figures taken from the very complete and exhaustive report will convey an idea of the growth of this institution, and the substantial basis on which it is conducting business.

The gross receipts for the year ending Jan. 1, 1895, were $80,343.02; the total disbursements including claims paid to members for accident and sickness, the expense of management, etc., aggregate $68,094.31, leaving a cash balance of $12,248.71. When to this sum is added the non-invested and contingent assets of $6271, the report shows a surplus in the gratuity fund of $18,519.71, the society thus commencing the year 1895 with the largest surplus it has ever had.

The society was organized three years ago; since which time it has issued over 30,000 policies of insurance to members, in that time it has relieved the burden of sickness and disaster for a great many of its members, having paid 3357 claims. The members present at the meeting were much delighted with this excellent showing of the society for the year just expired.

After the report was accepted the following gentlemen were elected officers: President, J. P. Johnson; vice president, O. C. Hartman; secretary and general manager, V. D. Cliff. The selection of the above gentlemen to direct the affairs of the society augurs well for its constantly increasing development and prosperity. The president, Mr. Johnson, the well-known cashier of the Marine National bank, is a man of integrity and rare business acumen whose services will be invaluable to the society. O. C. Hartman, the vice president, is treasurer of the Hartman General Electric company, and a man of consummate judgment in practical affairs. It has been largely through the earnest devotion of Mr. Cliff to the interests of the society, and his untiring energy in its behalf, that the institution has attained its present excellent standing; and the directors certainly acted wisely in retaining him in his present position. With the business capacity, ability and integrity of the newly elected officers, The Herald predicts a prosperous year for this society, which has already made such giant strides since its organization.

The members elected the following directors of the society: J. P. Johnson, O. C. Hartman, F. L. Cliff, A. G. Strong, F. W. Sullivan, John M. McCabe, Silas Yates, J. O. Paddock and V. D. Cliff.

MORE OF THE COMBINE.

Something About the Commissioners Action Yesterday—Dinham Wants More Salary.

The action of the county commissioners yesterday in selecting employees of the county has provoked any amount of comment. It is generally agreed that the "Getty crowd" manipulated the whole thing. Commissioners Miller and Morcom had no voice whatever in the proceedings. It was all settled and determined before hand.

Some days ago commissioners Miller and Helm were talking over the matter of the selection of employees. It was suggested that a caucus might be held to determine who ought to be chosen. Commissioner Miller had an idea that Messrs. Helm, Dinham and Swenson had formed a combine and said to Helm, "Now if you three have fixed up a slate, there is no use of our holding a caucus it will be only a waste of time."

He then asked Helm directly whether they had arranged to really elect what they had not and that a caucus ought to be held. Commissioner Morcom asked that it be held on Monday as he could not come down from Tower before then. It was held Monday and the result was as given in yesterday's Herald. The vote on every office was 3 to 2. Commissioner Miller asked before the vote if they had not better read the applications. "Oh no," was the reply. "We know who the applicants are."

Dr. Braden, who was selected to be county physician has been a resident of the city for only about a year, and has but recently made application to join the medical society. He had the necessary "pull," however, though where it came from, is something of a mystery. The West End and West Duluth seems to have walked off with a good share of everything in sight.

It has been freely remarked upon today as quite presuming for two new commissioners, men who are just stepping into office and are quite unfamiliar with conducting county affairs to dictate everything even to selecting the chairman.

One of the new commissioners, H. T. Dinham, has interested himself in a little matter which has not before been brought to public notice. The office pays $62.50 a month to each commissioner. As his candidate for this was a sufficiently alluring position to incite Mr. Dinham to put in his best looks to get it. Having once attained it, however, he is not satisfied but holds out his hand for more.

For some time he had been and so far as known he is at present laboring with Representatives Smith, Cant and McInnes to have the salary of county commissioner increased by legislative enactment to $1500 a year, just double what it now is. Mr. Dinham has never served in the capacity of commissioner before and does not as yet know how much work he has to do but wants $1500 for it just the same.

It is presumed that he has broached the subject to the "combine" but whether he has enlisted the efforts of Messrs. Helm and Swenson is not known. He has approached one of the commissioners outside the combine, Mr. Miller, and it is reasonable to suppose that he has all the while been waiting for some trouble, however, in securing his desired raise for the passage of special acts by the legislature is prohibited, any other countries would object to a general act.

Panton & Watson say they will donate $100 in gold to anyone that will find that the prices are not exactly half of the original prices. They will also offer a lot of children's shoes at 50 cents and another lot at 90 cents which never paid for the material in them.

FOOD F. F. F. F. ...FOR FLOUR! THE FAMILIES IMPERIAL!

MADE AT DULUTH, MINN.

Rich in gluten, the life giving principle of flour. Made of the cream of over 90,000,000 bu. of the famous No. 1 Hard Spring Wheat, the finest in the world, grown in the limitless wheat fields of Minnesota and the Dakota; ground in the first and largest stone mill in the world, by the most modern machinery, absorbs more water and makes 50 times more of the most perfect, whitest, richest bread, to the barrel than any other flour. Better than any of the so-called "best" flours. Actual tests show that 10 cc. of this flour will make 25 cc. of baked bread, retaining its moisture longer than any winter wheat bread. Inquire at your grocer's for it and insist on having it. The choicest because the best. Any fair trial will convince you of the absolute perfection of this flour.

CATE & CLARKE,

IN THE CAPITOL.

The Minnesota Legislators Display a Tendency Towards Economy by Reducing the Number of Clerks.

Only Five House Committees Allowed Clerks and Securing of Extra Employees Is Carefully Guarded.

A Big Budget of Bills Was Introduced in the House and Senate This Morning.

Senator Spencer Has a Bill For Adjusting Debts of Municipalities Partially Annexed to Cities.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—The house was ready for business promptly this morning and Chaplain McCune's prayer was over and roll call completed within the first ten minutes after the hour. Nearly everyone was in his seat at 10 o'clock and all paid close attention to the chaplain's brief prayer. Mr. Anderson presented the report of the committee on the rules. Only a few changes are made in the rules of former houses, most of them being in minor particulars.

The number of committee clerks is reduced, clerks being allowed only to the committees on judiciary, railroads, appropriations, engrossment and enrollment and the securing of all extra employees being hedged about so that expenses will be kept down to the lowest limit.

Four new committees, on fish and game laws, health, census and drainage, are provided for. Some changes also are made in the order of procedure in handling bills, the third reading of bills coming a little later than heretofore and being read in full on final passage. The report was adopted.

A resolution from Mr. Wright to employ J. F. Wheaton as reading clerk at a compensation of $5 per day was referred to the committee on legislative expenses.

Mr. Lockwood presented a similar resolution for Paul E. Ewert as reading clerk, which also went to the same committee.

Ell Warner introduced a resolution in favor of the holding of the G. A. R. encampment for 1895 in the city of St. Paul, which was adopted.

Under the introduction of bills August J. Anderson got in first, his bill being one relating to the taxation of railroad lands. It is a bill for the submission of a constitutional amendment on taxing railroad lands to a vote of the people and its provisions are practically the same as the well known McCune bill of two years ago, and it is identical with the Allen bill brought into the senate yesterday. It went to the judiciary committee, by request of Mr. Anderson.

Henry Johns introduced No. 2, being a bill to authorize the publication of public statistics. The judiciary committee on game and game laws, on taxing Mr. Harshorn, authorizing villages to change their names by vote.

Mr. Guttersen, authorizing loans by towns to insurance companies. Committee on insurance.

Mr. Ferris, to regulate the use of pound nets in international waters. Committee on game and game laws.

At this point the secretary of the senate reported the passage of S. F. No. 14, appropriating $10,000 for legislative expenses, and it was immediately taken up and passed, yeas, 104; nays, none.

By Mr. Moore, to repeal the law of two years ago providing for the election of a new state capital. Committee on public buildings.

By Mr. Gunn, to repeal the special law of 1889 relating to the election of county commissioners of Aitkin county. Committee on judiciary.

By Mr. Feig, prohibiting the soliciting or securing of any commission or interest, by any public official for public funds entrusted to his care. For such an official to be a stockholder in a bank or other institution in which such funds are deposited is declared a misdemeanor. Reports by all such state, county or township officials must be made at least once a month. It was referred to the judiciary committee.

By a vote of 34 for and 60 against the house decided adversely the first proposition to print bills on introduction showing its temper as being still in favor of economy. The house then adjourned until Monday night at 8 o'clock.

AFTER TAYLOR.

An Effort Being Made to Locate South Dakota's Defaulting Treasurer and His Bondsmen Sued.

When He Left Pierre He Had Fully a Quarter of a Million Dollars in Cash.

Strong Effort Is Being Made to Throw Doubt on the Validity of His Bonds.

State Officials Trying to Raise Sufficient Cash to Keep the Various State Institutions Running.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 10.—A Pierre, S. D. special to the Dispatch says: The attorney general has brought suit on the bond of Treasurer Taylor. It is understood that the bond will be contested. Ex-Governor Mellette, who justified for $50,000, wires that he will be here tonight and will straighten the shortage. As his property, however, is only 10 per cent of the defalcation the state officials do not place much reliance in it. It is believed Taylor is in hiding in the East. It is known that he had when he left here fully $250,000 in cash and he could have drawn in New York $100,000 more. It is believed he has certain confidence here who are keeping him advised of the proceedings. A strong attempt is being made here to throw doubt on the validity of the bond, and it is suspected that the plan is to force the state into a compromise with the bondsmen for a moderate sum, and then when a settlement is completed and Taylor is promised immunity, he will make good the losses of his bondsmen.

All sorts of rumors have been set afloat here by Taylor's friends to prevent rigid prosecution. It is said that the shortage was due to the liberality with which he supported various banks during the panic and received notes on which he has failed to realize.

The state officials are making strenuous efforts to raise sufficient cash to keep the various state institutions running, and a peremptory call for taxes is expected to produce enough to tide over the difficulty. Loch Lomond is from an auditor feels positive that South Dakota must default on the bond interest due in June. Meanwhile every effort is being made to apprehend Taylor.

PHILIP WOLFROM'S SUCCESS.

Wins Praise as an Artist in Paris, and His Sister Also Successful.

In Galignani's Messenger, published at Paris Nov. 29, the following notice of a well-known Duluth boy, son of Louis Wolfrom, is found:

"Mr. Wolfrom, a young man whose life has been largely spent in Colorado, Texas and Arizona, is awakening great interest at Julian's and the Beaux Arts by his fine animal studies. His horses are liked best, while his sketches of the animals in the Paris Zoo are deservedly well praised. Jerome is said to be pleased with his work."

The Jerome spoken of is one of the foremost of the French, if not of the world's modern painters, and the students deem themselves especially well favored when the great master of the brush deigns to even look at their work. Philip Wolfrom is also taking up sculpture at the suggestion of M. De Fremier, the well-known animal sculptor, who has expressed himself well pleased with Wolfrom's models and drawings. At his special request, Mr. Wolfrom is modeling an elephant to be placed on exhibition in Fremier's salon.

In this connection it may be interesting to state that Miss Annie Wolfrom, who is with her brother in Paris, is one of the two American girls selected out of over 100 applications for admission to Sorbonne college. Sorbonne college is one of the most prominent in France, and as an educational institution ranks with our Harvard and Yale. In consequence of these bits of good news Louis Wolfrom, of this city, is well pleased nowadays.

IT WILL BUILD FURNACES.

Iron Steel Company Will Put in Two of the Open Hearth Kind.

The Iron Steel Company is preparing for the immediate building of two open hearth furnaces. They are to be completed by June 1 and the company is figuring with contractors now. It means an extension to the buildings of about 100 by 200 feet and an investment of from $25,000 to $50,000.

It has always been the intention of the company to eventually operate its own furnaces but the building of them at once was precipitated by the fact that the company was unable to purchase steel ingots for rolling beams. The Illinois Steel company had promised to furnish them but finally backed down. The plain truth of the matter is that they are afraid of the iron structural steel and want to keep it out of the market as long as possible.

Under Mr. York's patents steel can be rolled many times cheaper than under the old style machinery and once in operation the plant will prove a formidable competitor to the old monopolies that have controlled everything.

UPHAM'S IDEAS

A Strong Message by the New Governor of Wisconsin Presented to the Legislature Today.

Deals With More Than a Score of Different State Subjects For Probable New Laws.

Use of the Blacklist by Corporations One of the Topics Treated at Greatest Length.

Recommends a Grant to Sufferers by the Forest Fires by Providing Seed For Spring Planting.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 10.—Governor Upham's message, which was presented to the legislature today, deals carefully with more than a score of different state subjects for probable new laws. The use of the blacklist by large corporations is one of the topics treated at greatest length. The governor says: "It is for the public interests that, so far as may be, every industrious, sober and competent man should be employed. I cannot but regard an arrangement among a large number of employers not to employ or permit to be employed, if they can prevent it, competent and faithful men, simply because they quit the service of some other employer, as a conspiracy which ought not to be tolerated by the law. The employer has no more right to be protected by the law from a conspiracy on the part of employees than employees have to be protected by law against a conspiracy on the part of employers."

"This exemption of employees or laboring men from persecution by employers for quitting is peculiarly important in this day of commercial distress. If the law as it now stands does not protect men who have quit the service of employers from blacklisting, such as I have indicated, it should, in my judgment, be so amended as to plainly include it."

The Lexow crusade is indirectly referred to by Governor Upham. The governor said: "The revelations made by investigating committees in several of the large cities recently serve to emphasize the necessity for radical changes in some of the methods of municipal government. Some cities will seek help by asking for laws which will enable them to apply and extend civil service methods to various departments. There is evident a very general desire for improvement and more business like methods in conducting city affairs. It lies in your power to encourage materially, by wise measures, the furtherance of such reforms."

The governor commends the St. Louis and Missouri rivers in Minnesota, transmitted by the secretary of war in pursuance of a house resolution, was referred to the committee on judiciary.

As Others See Us.

Pittsburg, Pa., Financial News:
The Duluth Evening Herald has issued a Christmas edition of forty pages, graphically detailing the wonderful progress and prosperity
of its city during the present year
of almost paralyzing commercial
and industrial depression, when it has been all most centers could do to hold their own. Duluth has done wonderfully well in every respect,
as shown in The Herald, which, by the way, is a practical demonstration
of energy and enterprise in keeping with the revival of "the Zenth City of the unsalted seas," a name which it begins to deserve.

The Weather.

Governor Altgeld's Views.

No doubt there will be people who will severely criticize and condemn the message which Governor Altgeld sent to the Illinois legislature today, so far as it deals with the railroad strike, the use of federal troops to preserve order at Chicago, and the commitment to jail of President Debs and other American Railway union officials for contempt of court.
There are some points in Governor Alt-geld's remarks on these subjects which deserve commendation, but there are others that must meet with endorsement in many quarters.

The Herald does not agree with the governor's idea that the sending of federal troops to Chicago to preserve order was an act of despotism. The only question that could arise was whether their presence was absolutely needed to preserve order so that the United States mails would not be delayed and interstate commerce not interfered with. There can be no doubt that they were needed there for this purpose, and furthermore they were effective in accomplishing what they were sent to do. Nor was it a blow at free institutions, nor as a result is there any danger that our career as a republic is ended. The foundation stone of the republic is liberty and order. These two must be combined, because without order there cannot be liberty. And there can be no liberty where one man is permitted to interfere with the business or comfort of his neighbor. The stoppage of the mails, the delay of commerce by riotous proceedings, was an invasion of the people's liberty, and when President Cleveland directed the federal troops to maintain freedom of trade between the various states and put an end to the disorder that interrupted it, his action was heartily endorsed by the vast majority of the people of the country, who recognized in this move the upholding of their constitutional liberties and the overthrow of license, which is a travesty upon liberty.

The people who thus upheld the president's action did not thereby endorse the employers against whom the strike was instituted, nor did they condemn the motives which prompted the members of the American Railway union when they declined to handle cars of that corporate hog—the Pullman company. Their sympathies were with the thousands of men who were seeking to right a great wrong and to obtain justice for the Pullman employees; but they had nothing but strong condemnation for the acts which were committed by the lawless element which always takes advantage of such opportunities.

Governor Altgeld, however, is right when he condemns "government by injunction." This is a judicial function which has been grossly abused, and congress should not neglect to limit and define the power of the federal judges in this respect. Aside from the wrong done by this usurpation of power which the federal judiciary has assumed, such a state of affairs weakens respect for the courts and creates an embittered feeling against the judiciary which is a serious menace to the welfare of the country. For the same reasons, the power of the judiciary to commit men for "contempt of court" should be greatly abridged. It is a violation of constitutional rights to send a man to jail for "contempt of court" for disobeying an injunction, without being given a trial by jury. If Governor Altgeld had contented himself with inveigh-ing against these two wrongs, instead of denouncing the federal administration for maintaining law and order, his message would have been stronger and would have had weight with many loyal people who, it is to be feared, will pay little attention to what good it contains and will condemn the whole document as a defense of lawlessness and a justification of anarchy.

The Bridge Question.

The action of the chamber of commerce yesterday on the bridge question must have displeased the News Tribune greatly, because it did not even let a meeting of the chamber. The chamber rescinded the resolution passed a week ago on the bridge question, which had been adopted under a misapprehension of the meaning of the proposed amendments to the Duluth and Superior Bridge company's charter, and resolved against any change being made in the original act under which the company was granted authority to construct the bridge.

The people of Duluth are unalterably opposed to any bridge between Rice's and Connor's Points which will not provide ample accommodation for all forms of traffic. When the Duluth and Superior company sought the franchise, there was another company which stood ready to provide such a bridge as the people want. That company is still ready to construct such a bridge, if granted authority by congress, and if the Duluth and Superior company does not desire to put up a bridge in conformity to the special law under which it secured its rights, it should step aside and give others an opportunity. A bridge at this point would be a paying investment, and a first-class structure should be insisted on.

By the bill now before the senate, the Duluth and Superior company could erect a bridge with one track for street cars and only one track for steam railway cars. This would be utterly useless so far as the immediate future is concerned. There are railroads anxious to get into Duluth and they require a bridge. Only one bridge will ever be allowed at that point, in addition to the Northern Pacific bridge. Hence the importance of providing that it shall be first-class in every particular. Senator Davis and Maj. Baldwin have been no friends of the chamber's action, and The Herald trusts that they will use their influence in the direction desired. If the Duluth members of the legislature finally decide to vote for Senator Washburn, they should obtain a pledge from him that he will act on this question in the interests of Duluth, as expressed by yesterday's action of the chamber of commerce.

D. E. McDowell, of Middlesborough, Ky., writes to the manager of The Herald as follows: "On my return home I found on my table the 40-page edition of The Duluth Evening Herald, and in thanksgiving you for the same, I want to offer you my compliments on your enterprise. I have seen very few larger editions and none more creditable. It is the greatest success ever attained in a town of less than 15,000 population and will be a great help to the material advancement of Duluth. Hoping that the growth of your city will justify me in saying that The Evening Herald is a first-class paper published in a first-class town, I am," etc.

There were reported last year no less than 629 embezzlements and defalcations.

tions, aggregating $25,234,112, the largest total in any year since 1878. It was 26 per cent greater than for 1893 and 19 per cent greater than for 1892. Of the entire number forty-four were for sums of more than $50,000 and less than $100,000 each, thirty-seven for more than $100,000 and less than $500,000 each, four for more than $500,000 and less than $1,000,000 each, while there were four in excess of $1,000,000 each. More than one-third of the entire amount must be set down to New York.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press says that Senator Washburn has a majority of the Republican members pledged to him.
Such a claim is absurd, and Editor Eastman knows it. Why not tell the truth?
The readers of a newspaper are entitled to facts. Even the Minneapolis papers have not the audacity to claim more than that Mr. Washburn has a good prospect of being re-elected, and they strain the truth when they say that.

The St. Paul Globe published Governor Nelson's message in advance yesterday morning. By so doing it committed a gross breach of faith with the governor, who had kindly furnished copies of his message to the newspaper under pledge that it would not be published before delivery. The action of the Globe was contemptible.

The value of her entirely new and comparatively new South African possessions to England is incalculable. They put out more gold in 1894 than the rest of the world together, and the output of diamonds but a single company, the De Biers, was sold a few days ago in London for $17,500,000.

By the New York law a tax of 1 per cent has to be paid upon inheritances.
To meet this the heirs of Jay Gould deposited $600,000, estimating the estate at $600,000. It has been found that the value of the estate exceeds $800,000, and they will have to pay the additional $200,000.

It is acknowledged by all that The Herald is furnishing the most complete reports of the legislature's doings. They are also published on the same day. The Herald's readers do not have to wait for twelve to twenty-four hours, for the news. They are served with it piping hot.

The figures of the New York building department show that in the last fourteen years $325,000,000 have been spent in building flats and tenements in New York and at least $500,000,000 of this amount has been wasted in needless brick work which only obstructs light.

The News Tribune is very much opposed to the idea of a Duluth man going to the United States senate. It is afraid he might not be willing to support private measures for the personal benefit of the News Tribune's owners.

And still the senatorial race is in great doubt. As the fight between Washburn and Nelson increases in bitterness, the probability grows of a "dark horse" winning out. And why not a Duluth man?

British imports last year were $2,042,- 383,690 an increase of $1,067,700, as against 1893. The exports were $1,280,- 071,195, a decrease of $5,031,130. This is not a very satisfactory showing.

If Duluth cannot get a first-class bridge to Superior, that will accommodate all forms of traffic, from those who now hold the franchise, let others be given a franchise.

The state prison board yesterday

ber released being William Middlemist, who was sentenced from Itasca county.

If Dave and Grover want to console
each other, why should anyone object?
Surely they need consolation.

THE CABINET DIVIDED.

Discussions in the British Cabinet of a Serious Nature Reported.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The rumored dis-ensions in the British cabinet attracted the greatest interest in today's cabinet council, which met at noon with all the ministers present.
It was said that the first difficulty existing was that regarding Ireland. Sir William Harcourt, chancellor of the exchequer, and John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, are understood to have been of the opinion that the Irish must be satisfied at all costs during the coming session of parliament. With this view, it is added, Premier Rosebery and Home Secretary Asquith and other members of the cabinet do not agree.

It is said that the misunderstanding as to the disposition of the surplus for 1893 is much more serious than was at first believed, the main point at issue being the claim raised by some of the cabinet ministers and others that the surplus should be devoted to the use of the navy.

A Brewery Robbed.

MARTIN'S FERRY, Ohio, Jan. 10.—
Seven masked men blew open the safe in the Belmont brewery early this morning and secured $200. They seized John Brooney, the night watchman, and took his revolver and keys. They then gagged and bound him.

Treasurer Hayes Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—D. W. Hayes, treasurer of the stock exchange, is dead.
He entered the exchange in January, 1890.

From "Trilby."

The following two quatrains from
"Trilby" have attracted much attention:

La vie est brève,
Un peu d'amour,
Un peu de rêve,
Et puis bonjour!

La vie est brève,
Un peu d'amour,
Un peu de rêve,
Et puis bonjour!

They have been translated by Louise Chandler Moulton in the Independent as follows:

Alas, brief is Life,
Love's short, sweet way,
With dreamy joys and
And then—Good-bay.

And Life is vain,
Love's vain delight,
Grief's transient pain,
And then—Good-bay.

It Was Foolish Talk.

Red Wing Republican:—The arguments between Mr. Washburn and his supporters have had a strong resemblance to the speeches of the young kaiser of Germany. They took the position that the senatorship ought to be vacant belongs of divine right to Minneapolis, that if some other Minneapolis candidate should aspire to it, it would be a matter for the friends of Mr.
Washburn and the friends of the new man to settle between themselves, without outside interference; and that, as long as there was no such Minneapolis competitor, it was high treason, blasphemy and sacrilege for any other man from any other part of the state to wink one eye at the senatorial chair. If another man did but so much as to think that he could fit it, if he could only get there, then the thing to do was to haul him forthwith to the gibbet and the stake.

DRIVEN FROM THEIR BEDS.

One Hundred Girls in a Chicago Institution Had a Scare.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Over 100 girls were driven from their beds at 6 a. m.
today by a fire which damaged the upper story of the Chicago industrial school for girls, at Prairie avenue and Forty-ninth street. None of the girls were injured but several are likely to die from the ex-posure.

The fire which began in epidemic in the school and about twenty-five of the pupils were ill. They, with the others, were compelled to rush to the streets in nightgowns and the consequent exposure is deemed extremely dangerous by their physicians.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Damage Done at Union City, Pa., and Four Firemen Hurt.

ERIE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Union City, near here, suffered from a disastrous fire last night. The fire started in the billiard room over Hayes & Sons store and spread rapidly north and south. Several business blocks were destroyed.
Chief Fire Marshal Wagner was thrown from the third floor of a building and seriously injured. Fireman Norman Anderson, Daniel Conway and William Rappold were buried under a falling wall of hot bricks and had a miraculous escape from the burning building.
The fire broke and his back hurt and the other two were cut and bruised.
The total loss will aggregate $50,000.

OPENED FOR SETTLEMENT.

Great Rush For Homesteads at Marquette Land Office.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Jan. 10.—When Register Peter Premau opened the government land office at 9 a. m. today, a long file of prospective homesteaders blocked the sidewalks and extended outside the building.

The first man presenting his application had remained in front of the building since the morning. The weather was very severe. Many had been in the line forty-eight hours. A portion of the forfeited railroad grant in Ontonagon county, containing 328 1/2 acres, was opened for settlement today.

with cut-throats, and who subsequently forfeited their bail and were arrested in this colony, have escaped from the

NO DATE WAS FIXED.

General Land Office Ordered the Case Against Mee & Sharp Continued to Some Future Period.

The Attorneys Are Disappointed and Had Demanded an Immediate Trial From the Government.

New Rule in Reference to Final Proofs Received—Register Taylor Makes a Rule.

The case in which Mee & Sharp were cited to appear and show cause why they, as practicing land attorneys, should not be disbarred, as the result of several affidavits alleging irregularities in their practice, was brought up before the land officers today. Persons & McDonald, attorneys for the defendants, appeared and announced that their clients were ready for trial. Register Taylor pronounced a telegram from the general office ordering the case continued to a future period. That was done, and as the day was set, no one here knows when the matter will again come up.

Said persons & McDonald to a friend that this action on the part of the government was extremely distasteful to them. They were ready to prove their clients' absolute honesty and that all the charges were absolutely false and without a real foundation. The government refused to go to trial, despite the demands and our readiness. We felt such delay, especially such an indefinite delay, is unjust and unfair.

A new rule has been promulgated by the general land office as to final proofs. Heretofore it has been the practice to permit the claimants to submit final proof on the day advised, therefor or within ten days thereafter. By the new requirement, the ten-day rule is made to apply only in cases when the claimant was prevented by accident or other unavoidable delay from submitting proof on the day advised.

Some say that is not a new ruling, but that it was made under the Sparks' administration and that many letters have been received concerning it. Be that as it may, it evidently has fallen into disuse, for the old rule has been allowed to govern such cases. The register and receiver are just in receipt of a letter containing the above rule and Register Taylor states that undoubtedly many will be surprised to find it in force as they have been accustomed to the old practice.

It has been permitted in quite a number of cases in the past at the local land office to allow timber and stone applicants to make filings on their belief and information as the result of information of some one who has been on the land involved. Yesterday a number of such filings were made and after Receiver Ryan had accepted them and taken the money, Register Taylor announced that he would refuse to accept them. Mr. Ryan told him that he had allowed them, taken the money and would not reject them. It was given out that Rosa that, later on, the register and receiver "chewed the rag" and indulged in a war of words that was both unbrotherly and undemocratic.

Some time ago Marco Malakovich, a young Polish boy from Tower was found guilty of manslaughter in the district court for killing Matt Vivoda with a shovel in a brawl at Tower. A motion for a new trial was made and denied, and an appeal to the supreme court was taken by Malakovich's attorneys. The morning Capt. Tear received from the supreme court an affirmation of the denial of the motion for a new trial.

Malakovich is now out on bail and is living at Tower. He will probably be brought down and sentenced at Saturday's special term.

GOSSIP OF CONGRESS.

The Republicans in the House Object to England Constructing a Cable Line to Hawaii.

Mr. Hitt, of Illinois, is Still in Favor of a Subsidy for a Hawaiian Cable.

House Elections Committee Meeting for the Purpose of Fixing Dates for Hearing Two Contests.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The recommendation made by President Cleveland that the United States give its consent to the construction of a cable to Hawaii by Great Britain does not find favor among the Republicans of the house. Representative Hitt, of Illinois, who is recognized as the Republican leader in the house on foreign affairs, said today that he fully agreed with the president that the Hawaiian islands should have the benefits of telegraphic communication with the world at large, but was strongly opposed to putting the cable facilities under control of any government but the United States.

In the Fifty-first congress Mr. Hitt offered an amendment to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill providing for a survey of a feasible route for a cable between Hawaii and San Francisco and for the preliminary steps toward the organization of a company. On the grounds of economy the proposition was defeated by a small majority, the attendance being limited.

Mr. Hitt is still in favor of a subsidy for a Hawaiian cable. "The United States," he says, "controls most of the commerce with the islands and should control any cable company that is to be under government domination. With a British cable this government would be under great disadvantages in case of war or grave international difficulties. Doubtless Americans would be free to use the cable for commercial purposes, but it is doubtful whether we would be permitted to send messages in cipher, and no treaty arrangements would be practicable by which this government would have the privileges of communication for naval purposes in time of war or other troubles."

Great Britain maintains a cable between Bermuda and Nova Scotia which does not in any way pay for its maintenance," he said, by way of illustration. "Bermuda is a great strategic point with a powerful fortress. Americans can order onions by that cable but Secretary Herbert could not request one of our ships to put dynamite on a British vessel and blow her up in the event that such a proceeding was deemed advisable."

This was, of course, said to illustrate his point. Had the cable been constructed with the United States, the complications in Hawaii of the past two years would have been greatly simplified and partly averted, Mr. Hitt says. He declares it to be a doubtful form of economy to expend $25,000,000 annually for the maintenance of a navy and neglect comparatively small expenditures for the control of vessels, by which they could be effectively handled and kept under working orders by the home government.

The house elections committee will meet today for the purpose of fixing dates for hearing two contests. The belated cases are from the Fifth Michigan district, where Belknap (Rep.) claims the seat held by Richardson (Dem.), who was elected by a plurality of ten votes on the face of the returns and the Eighth Illinois, whose representative, Mr. Childs (Rep.), defeated Steward (Dem.) by a plurality of thirty-seven.

Steward, the contestant in the latter case, has been prevented by illness from prosecuting his claims, while there has been great delay in completing the record in the Michigan case. Frank Mason, United States consul at Frankfurt, has submitted to the department of state a most interesting report on anti-toxine, the new curative and preventive for diphtheria. He explained that he is impelled to do this because the subject is about to engage the attention of congress, because of the large number of inquiries for detailed information concerning anti-toxine, and because at Frankfort is the only establishment where it has been produced commercially in quantities adequate to meet the rapid increasing demand. It suggests the early publication of the report. Mr. Mason gives a clear and detailed description of every step in the process of the production of the new remedy, prefaced by an accurate historical sketch of its discovery and development.

The factory at Frankfort, which he refers to as the "Farbwerke" at Hoechst-on-Main. Sheep and goats at first employed to produce the serum were discarded, because their tissues were affected by the various foods they consumed, and recourse was had to horses. The establishment now utilizes the blood of seventy-six horses, and a trained corps of more than fifty men employed in this one work, producing at present about 2000 doses per day and by the end of this month it will supply the demand. It is absolutely requisite that the horses be young, vigorous and physically perfect and no racing stud was ever better housed, exercised, fed and cared for.

The anti-toxine improves with age, at least during the first two months, and the German physicians no longer use it fresh, when it is apt to cause a skin eruption. An early application however, is of the utmost importance. In seventy-three cases of children treated within two days of the first appearance of diphtheria but two cases were fatal, and the death rate in such cases is placed at ten per cent.

In Germany where the total cases used to average 60 per cent and not less than 50,000 lives were annually sacrificed to the diphtheria scourge, the mortality has been reduced to less than one-fourth and it will still further be reduced when the country physicians use freely. A serious epidemic of diphtheria at Trieste has been practically ended by anti-toxine.

OPINION FAVORED IT

General Sentiment at Yesterday Afternoon's Meeting Was for a Change in the Tax Penalties.

Not All Were in Favor of Diminishing Them—Many Think They Might Be Distributed Differently.

Resolutions Will Be Presented at a Future Meeting—Twin Cities to Be Asked for Co-operation.

It was nearly 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the citizens' meeting, called to discuss tax penalties and interest, came to order. The council chamber was fairly well filled and when once the ice was broken quite an interest was taken in the discussion. Among those present were:

Mayor Lewis, S. L. Merchant, Beriah Magoffin, Capt. Farrell, M. O. Hall, Nils Nilson, a Swardling, E. C. Gridley, Ed Ingalls, R. S. Aldrich, Judge A. G. Gindley, James L. Dow, John Mears, C. Porter, George N. LaVaque, Knute Ber-ven, J. H. Baker, John P. Mason, Marshall, George S. Smith, W. J. Engle, W. L. Shepherd, E. R. Jefferson, Page Morris, Z. H. Austin, C. H. Graves, E. Benham, Capt. Bush, Alderman French, Alderman Harwood, James Bardson, J. Davis, R. C. Mitchell, C. E. Lovett, J. D. Holmes, P. Hammel, Alderman Evans, A. Hirsch, G. A. Leland.

Mayor Lewis called the meeting to order and stated the object. On motion of E. C. Gridley, T. T. Hudson was chosen chairman, C. H. Graves declined to act as secretary, whereupon D. W. Scott was selected.

Mayor Lewis then called for City Attorney Morris and he in substance said: "I don't know as I have any views in this matter. I recently have talked with Judge Ensign and H. M. Peyton. The conclusion we came to was that it would be unadvisable to diminish penalties as they now stand and we also decided that it would be wise to distribute them as soon as possible. The 10 per cent penalty is added June 1. It costs no more to pay the taxes the last of December than it does June 1. Naturalists do not want to wait until the last of the six months and retain the use of his money in the meanwhile. Removing penalties, however, wipes out the incentive to pay taxes."

E. G. Swanstrom wanted to know what the meeting was going to discuss—whether future taxes or past penalties. Mayor Lewis replied that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the advisability of legislating for the future with no reference to the past.

Judge McGindley also sought information: He wanted to know what proportion of the taxes were paid, up to date. Ex-Auditor LaVaque said that he did not know, but, as a guess, would say 65 per cent.

E. C. Gridley then took the floor and said his idea was that the meeting was probably called to see if there was any way to afford relief to those unable to pay the taxes. Of the past two years, with that idea in view, he had hastily and crudely drafted a resolution which he offered.

It was in the case of payment of all taxes in arrears all present penalties be abated, first, on condition that the delinquent pay his back taxes within six months as follows: Six per cent from time of delinquency if paid within thirty days, 7 per cent if paid within sixty days and so on, adding 1 per cent each succeeding month until the interest reaches 12 per cent.

"This is not a new move," continued Mr. Gridley, "to provide some relief to the people who are unable to pay their taxes. These are extraordinary times. There is one change, however, that I would like to see, and I would like to have the legislature meet annually."

C. H. Graves said that in 1875 he and Mr. Swanstrom were sent to the legislature for about the same purpose. He held that nothing but an incentive to pay taxes is gained from the penalty. He said that the penalties went into the county general fund and did the city little good anyway. He thought a reduction of the penalty and a decrease of the time between one penalty and another most desirable.

Ed Ingalls expressed a belief that the penalties as now imposed are too burdensome. He would favor a proposition to abate the penalties for 1892 and succeeding years on condition that all delinquent taxes be paid up within a certain period.

Thought Them Too Large. E. L. Dow thought that the penalties were absolutely necessary but entirely too large. He also wanted a law making a tax title good, on the grounds that if the state has the right to sell realty for taxes, it has a right to give a good title. Judge McGindley wanted powers delegated to the county commissioners and city council so that they, in times of emergency, can act in matters of this kind and afford such relief or indulgences as may seem wise.

E. R. Jefferson wanted the taxes payable quarterly with a penalty of 1 per cent a month until it reached a certain figure. He disapproved of any retroactive legislation.

James Bond, of Superior, favored a law that leaves matters of this kind to the discretion of the board of county commissioners together with a progressive penalty of 1 per cent a month. After C. E. Lovett had spoken the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of twelve to draft a set of resolutions, which will be presented at an adjourned meeting, subject to the call of the committee. Among other duties, the committee will endeavor to secure the co-operation of St. Paul and Minneapolis and other large cities. Chairman Hudson has appointed the following committee: E. G. Swanstrom, George N. LaVaque, D. A. Dickson, L. G. Matthews, D. A. Dugan, H. H. Kitchin, L. McCreath, E. C. Gridley, John A. Waterworth, S. C. Merchant, C. E. Lovett and J. A. Keyes.

Some of the Curiosities Which Find Their Way to the Editor.

The amount of matter which is contributed to newspapers during a year is quite large and on the whole of fairly good quality. Occasionally a decided curiosity will turn up, the editors and reporters pass it around, have a good laugh over it and then it goes either to the waste basket or into some secluded, seldom-opened pigeon hole. If kept in the latter it is quite amusing to get them out and read them now and then. The Herald has a few on hand and the time of receiving them is so far gone that it can do no harm and may afford some amusement to allow the public a passing glance at them.

Some months ago the editor was startled upon opening the morning mail to find the following, written on a piece of paper about three inches square in a very scrawly hand, but strange to say, bearing no skull and cross-bones: "A departed nussence."

"Will be glad to learn of another of our dock laborers,"—has left town. It is to be hoped he will not kill so many this winter as he has all summer.

A CITIZEN."

Here is one evidently from a young man desperately enamored of some fair damsel and who resented the young lady's attentions to her pet pooch. His letter to the editor says: "In pursuance of a threat that I'd immortalize him if she persisted in petting him in my presence, I present you with the enclosed rhyme, hoping that you may be able to mark 'No. 1 Local' for tonight's issue. Hopefully,

"P. S.—Please set it up as 'per.'"
The "enclosed" rhyme was as follows:

—A RUP.
Twelve inches high
And ends and shy
The little rascal stands:
He's fluffy and white
As a winter's night.
And sits as he Ladies' hands.

He's a careless runt,
Quite bold and blunt—
Provoking little pet:
With cold iron black
As a painted ink,
And teeth as bright
As jet.

A "darling" tease
With a heart of clover
He "loves" to stir;
He hates to be shoved,
To be petted or loved,
This chump of a Shepherd cur.

If I held away
I'd steal this rogue at once.
He claims to say
From the girl I mention
And acts like a Little dunce.

A tale of domestic woe which possibly have since developed tragic results is unfolded in the next one: "There is a gay and dashing widow living not far from— who has ruined two homes already and has set herself on the third and has made good progress so far but let me beg of her to stop before it is too late for a wife's and mother's sake."

The person that wrote the last evidently has a firm belief in the power of the public press. It might also be mentioned that none of the correspondents who send in matter such as the above ever observe the rule of signing their names to communications.

AMUSEMENTS.

Robert G. Ingersoll.

Robert G. Ingersoll is scheduled to deliver his latest iconoclastic lecture, "The Bible," at the Lyceum theater, Sunday evening. The delivery of this lecture at the Star theater, New York, a few weeks ago, created the most profound impression of anything the great agnostic has ever uttered against orthodoxy. In this lecture, for the first time, Col. Ingersoll reviews the Bible in its entirety. He discusses every book from Genesis to Revelation, and then solemnly declares that in the nature of things there can be no evidence to establish their inspiration. "The Bible" is regarded as Ingersoll's grand summing up of the agnostic's side of the religious question.

NO TARIFF CHANGES.

There Are Strong Indications That no Tariff Legislation Will Be Pushed at This Session.

Senator Hill Urges the Adoption of His Amendment in Regard to the Income Tax.

The Bill Exempting From Duties Foreign Exhibits at the Exposition at Baltimore Agreed To.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The ways and means committee of the house met today for the first time in many months. It was expected that the meeting might bring important developments in view of the government's need of an increased revenue. No positive conclusions were reached, however, beyond the reference of several questions to sub-committees and a favorable report on the bill exempting from duties foreign exhibits at the Baltimore exposition in 1897.

The action of the committee, though, was looked upon as something significant in indicating that no tariff legislation would be pushed at this session. Mr. Wilson stated informally during the meeting that the revenues of the government had shown a promising increase since the woolen schedule went into effect on Jan. 1, last.

Mr. Reed suggested that this increase was probably of a temporary character, natural to a change when first put into effect. Mr. Whiting urged that it would be continuous and would develop a healthy increase in government revenues.

The resolution of Mr. Pence, of Colorado, asking the secretary of the treasury to inform congress as to the advisability of increasing the beer tax was voted down without division and an unfavorable report will be made in accordance with a suggestion made by Mr. Tarsney that the requested information was fully covered by the annual reports of the secretary of the treasury and the commissioner of internal revenue.

The bill of Mr. Money, of Mississippi, for increasing the beer tax was referred to the sub-committee on internal revenue. Mr. Wilson's bill to take off the one-tenth differential on sugar was also referred to a sub-committee.

Mr. Whiting suggested the correction of the error in the tariff laws as to hemp carpets. Mr. Reed objected with a sarcastic statement that the law was all errors. The proposed correction was referred to a sub-committee.

The bill exempting from duties foreign exhibits at the exposition at Baltimore in 1897 was agreed to.

IN THE SENATE TODAY.

Mr. Hill Urges His Amendment Regarding the Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The senate was called to order today by Mr. Harris, who was yesterday re-elected president pro tem.

On motion of Mr. Butler, the senate agreed to a resolution asking the secretary of war to submit an estimate for certain improvements in Port Royal sound, S. C., including a 30-foot channel at high water over the bar.

On motion of Mr. Cockrell, the senate then took up the urgent deficiency bill and Mr. Hill spoke in favor of his amendment to that there are no Democrats in the senate to test its constitutionality.

Before proceeding with his speech, Mr. Hill made a statement regarding a remark in the speech of Mr. Peffer yesterday bearing on his (Hill's) opposition to the law. Mr. Hill was under the impression that Mr. Peffer had charged him with filibustering and said he knew of nothing that had taken place since he was a member of the senate that justified the senator from Kansas in charging that this bill was to meet with any filibustering so far as he (Hill) was concerned.

Mr. Peffer declared that he had not used the word "filibustering" since he had not been a member of the senate. He had said the senator from New York and the senator from Pennsylvania (Quay) had made up their minds to defeat the collection of the income tax, if in their power to do so, and that the amendment proposed by them was the first step in that proceeding.

DOINGS OF THE HOUSE.

Several Private Bills Were Passed Without Objection Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The attendance was slight in the house today. On motion of Mr. Sickles, by unanimous consent, the senate bill was passed to pay the wages of Orosopus P. Boyd, late captain of the Eighth United States cavalry, commutation for rations and accrued back pay earned during his volunteer service; also on motion of Mr. Hall, of Missouri, a bill authorizing the La Porte, Horton & Northern Railroad company to construct a bridge across Galveston bay, Buffalo Bayou and Clear creek in the state of Texas.

On motion of Mr. Terry a bill was passed authorizing the Little Rock & Pacific to construct a bridge across the Fourche Lafare and Petit Jean rivers in Arkansas.

Claims Valuable Property.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Henry A. Lewelling, of St. Louis, is about to bring suit for an eighth interest in the 200,000 worth of real estate in the suburb of Wilmette. Lewelling claims that his father formerly owned the property as a government claim, and the administrator sold it without the consent of all the heirs.

Another Toronto Fire.

Toronto, Jan. 11.—Losses by last night's fire will amount to $750,000 with insurance of about half. It started in the Osoodoby Publishing company's building and spread over two blocks.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

A SOURCE OF SURPRISE

To Physician and Patient Alike.

Dr. Redmond, a specialist in the study and treatment of piles and rectal diseases, recently stated that the Pyramid Pile Cure, the new discovery for the cure of piles, was the most remarkable remedy he had ever seen or tried in one respect; and that was, the instant relief experienced in all cases, no matter how severe, from the moment the remedy was applied; this was the more surprising to him, because he had carefully analyzed the preparation and no trace of opium, cocaine or similar poison could be detected.

Physicians look with great favor upon the Pyramid Pile Cure, because it is rapidly taking the place of surgical operations and because it is so simple, so easily applied and contains no mineral or other poisons so commonly used in pile cures.

Dr. Estabrook reports that the Pyramid Pile Cure not only cures the various forms of piles, but never fails to give immediate relief on the first application, so easily applied and contains no mineral or other poisons so commonly used in pile cures.

People who have suffered from piles for years are often astonished at the instant relief experienced from the first application. Another important advantage is the fact that anyone can use the remedy without detention from business or interference with daily occupation.

J. W. Rollins, of Sweet Springs, Mo., writes: "I consider the Pyramid Pile Cure without an equal; it cured me in less than thirty days. I waited fifteen days or more to be sure I was fully cured before writing you; I can now say I am cured and I shall recommend the Pyramid Pile Cure at every possible opportunity, because it deserves it."

Although a comparatively new remedy, its popularity is such that all druggists now sell it; if your druggist hasn't it in stock, he will get it for you if you ask him, as all wholesale druggists have it on sale.

CALLED A CONVENTION.

Democrats Will Convene on Jan. 17—Some Democratic Talk.

The Democratic city committee met last evening and decided to hold the city convention on Jan. 17, at the city hall. The caucus are to be held on Jan. 16, from 7:30 to 8 o'clock.

Whether the Democrats will nominate a full ticket or not is not yet known. Fred Voss will certainly be named for treasurer, and it seems at the present writing that there is no doubt of the nomination of H. J. Dibbell and J. W. Hunt for the judgeships. Most of the Democrats say that their attorneys went into the bar meeting agreeing to abide by the result and that the Democracy has also wanted to keep the judiciary out of politics.

There is some talk among Democrats also of making their convention a sort of citizens' movement. The idea of those who favor this plan is to select candidates for aldermen who are believed to be capable and trustworthy, regardless of what their political affiliations may be. Whether this plan will be viewed with favor by the rank and file remains to be seen, but there are no Democrats in the senate to test its constitutionality.

Before proceeding with his speech, Mr. Hill made a statement regarding a remark in the speech of Mr. Peffer yesterday bearing on his (Hill's) opposition to the law. Mr. Hill was under the impression that Mr. Peffer had charged him with filibustering and said he knew of nothing that had taken place since he was a member of the senate that justified the senator from Kansas in charging that this bill was to meet with any filibustering so far as he (Hill) was concerned.

BILL CODY ON BEARS.

EXCITING STORY OF THE DAYS OF THE PONY EXPRESS.

The Famous Scout and Indian Fighter Goes on a Hunt For Bears and Has a Lively Time With Horse Thieves—How He Outwitted Them in a Race For Life.

"I have not yet exhausted the subject of the pony express," began Colonel William F. Cody. "Let me tell you of one of my bear stories. Captain Slade of the express had taken a great fancy to me and had made me a kind of superintending rider who only went when it was necessary. So I had a good deal of time on my hands. To put in my time I would frequently go hunting for bears."

"One cool autumn day I took an express pony, a good rifle and a pair of revolvers and started for the foothills of Laramie peak. I rode along until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Although I knew that the tracks in the snow that bears were in the neighborhood, I had not succeeded in finding any. Feeling hungry, I shot a sage hen, tied my horse to a tree and built a fire, on which I proceeded to broil my chicken. After a good dinner and a short rest I started out again. As my friends all knew that I had gone out for bears, I thought that I would rather spend all night in the place than go back empty handed."

"Night came on, and still no bears. I decided to camp out. Shooting a couple more sage hens, I hunted up an empty place in the timber near a little mountain stream. Here I made up a bed and made preparations to build a fire when I was startled by hearing not far off the neigh of a horse. Where there is a horse there is a man, and I immediately started to look for a man. But what sort of a man was he? Was he white or Indian, an honest man or a crook? That was the question. I was about to leave when I let him know I was in the neighborhood. So I tied my horse to a tree, and taking my rifle with me I crept cautiously up the stream."

"I had not gone more than 400 yards when, turning the bend in the stream, I came in sight of a dozen horses grazing. On the opposite side of the stream a light was shining high up on the mountain bank. I waded across, and cautiously approaching the light I soon found that it came from a dugout in the bank. Soon I heard voices. Then I could distinguish words and found that they came from white men who spoke my own language. I concluded that they must be a party of trappers, so I boldly walked up and knocked at the door. Instantly the voices were hushed to a whisper. Then one of them called out:

"Who's there?"

"A friend, a white man, I replied."

"An unusual looking man opened the door and invited me to come in. The light then revealed a dozen other occupants of the room of an equally repulsive appearance. Among them I recognized two men who had once been teamsters in the train of Lew Simpson, had been discharged a few months before and had then disappeared. It was evident that they had robbed and murdered a ranchman and gone off with his horses."

"I acknowledge that my heart failed me for the moment, but I did not show outward sign of the fact. I determined to chat with the men for a few moments, to tell them as little as I could about my own life, and to take the earliest opportunity of leaving."

"Well, young man," said the fellow who appeared to be the leader, "who are you, and what are you looking for?"

"I came from Horseshoe station this morning," I replied. "I am searching for bears, and as I did not find any I decided to camp out and stay here a night, but hearing your horses neigh I came up here."

"Are you alone?"

"Quite alone."

"Where is your horse?"

"I left him down the stream."

"Well, said the captain, 'we will go down for him.'

"That was exactly what I wished to avoid, for if they were to get my horse they would cut me off from all possibility of escape. I was about to refuse, but they were a party of horse thieves, and that I would find them ugly customers."

"No, captain," I said as cheerily as I could. "I will leave my gun here, and I will go back for my horse and stay with you all night if you will give me the accommodations."

"I thought that if I left my gun behind me they would be sure I would come back for it. My real intention, however, was to sacrifice it and get away from that spot as quickly as possible. The ruffians evidently saw through my plan, for two of them spoke up and said, 'We will go down with you to get your horse, and you will leave your gun behind you, and stay with us all night if you will give me the accommodations.'

"All right," said I, with assumed carelessness. "I have no objection to staying here as long as I like, and I will take them along." I picked up the gun and followed them. They had no objection to my going, but I had now become quite dead. I put my hands in my pocket and drew out my revolver. The gang had omitted to search me. Then, as if by accident, I dropped one of the sage hens.

"Will you kindly pick it up?" I said to the man who was following me. He stooped down. Instantly I knocked him over the head with the butt end of the revolver. He fell senseless. The crash startled the man in front of me, and he wheeled round quick as a flash, with his hand upon the revolver. But I was quicker than he. One shot, and he fell to the ground in his death agony. I jumped upon my horse and urged him to race for his life. From the noise behind me I could dimly make out that the shot had been heard by the men in the dugout, but they had rushed out in a body and had learned the story from the man I had knocked down and had started in pursuit of me. They were on foot, but in this rough and wooded country a man could make his way quicker on foot than he could on horseback. I found that they were gaining on me. At last I had to abandon my horse. I leaped off his back, gave him a vigorous slap on the haunches, which sent him flying down the valley, and I crept up the mountain side. My pursuers were on. Hearing the sound of the horse's heels, they followed, with the evident idea that I was on his back. I hid behind a tree and waited until they had passed. Then I started to walk back to Horseshoe station. It was a long walk, fully 20 miles, but as soon as I was out of the woods I struck out and reached home at daybreak."

RUSSIAN ARMY ODDITIES.

Quaker Features of the Military Service of that Country.

The Russian army is full of strange features. Thus the biggest fellows are detailed for duty in the bodyguard regiment—Preobrazhenski—founded by Peter the Great and originally composed of that monarch's personal friends, all giants in their way. The czar's family take great pride in this regiment, and on the named day of its patron saint attend the festivities in a body, usually reinforced by foreign ambassadors and ministers. Then there is the Ismailowski regiment, where only blonds are tolerated, and the well known Pawlow guards, all of whom must have turned up noses.

The regulations of the guard chasseurs, on the other hand, admit only dark haired men. The guard officers, being privileged by birth as well as rank in their chosen professions, treat their colleagues in the line almost as badly as the latter treat their subordinates. Up to a few years ago the distinction between them was such that a guard lieutenant had precedence over the captain of the line. The late czar's father changed this state of things somewhat, but not much. A major of the guards would even today rank higher than a line colonel, if there were such a person.

The advancement of the regular army officer seldom surpasses the rank of battalion chief. Men having attained that distinction are generally made "majors" of a small province, while disgraced guard officers or general staff officers obtain the colonelship or lieutenant colonelship of the regiment to which they have devoted their lives.

Only very rarely does a line officer succeed in obtaining a commission in the war academy and finally in the general staff. It should be mentioned, however, that the majority are unfitted for such advancement. The requirements of the academy are not all considered, and to complete the wretchedness of the line officer his pay is ridiculously small and inadequate, especially that of the lieutenant colonel, who receives not more than $200 per year all told. The captain has a little over $300, the major $450. The most abject poverty prevails among them, only a few of the younger officers own more than one uniform, which must do service both on and off parade. The infantry private of the line receives in money 15 shillings per year, including the czar's and others' presents.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

WHAT THE MINE BOSS KNOWS.

Nowadays a Colliery Manager Must Have a Good Knowledge of the Sciences.

The subjects, in addition to the three R's, which intending colliery managers should endeavor to get a thorough knowledge of, are as follows: 1. Geology, which gives them a knowledge of the rocks forming the earth and the formations in which coal is found; also of the faults, dikes, and of the transmission of power for long distances. 2. Boring and sinking, a knowledge of which is required in opening new royalties and in searching for coal seams that have been disclosed by faults, etc. 3. The practical working of mines, which enables them to lay out a mine on the most advantageous scale of economy, including the drainage. 4. Principles of mechanics, which enables them to know the strength of beams, girders, ropes and chains, and to select the best kind of work; also the horsepower of engines required for winding, hauling and pumping certain quantities of water. 5. Steam, compressed air and electricity; the properties of steam and the principles of the steam engine enable them to use steam economically and to the best advantage and to superintend the erection of engines and to be a help to them in purchasing new engines; compressed air, which enables them to know the advantages of electric signaling and lighting and of the transmission of power for long distances. 6. Mine ventilation, gases, coal dust, lighting of mines, explosives and blasting; a thorough knowledge of these, if properly carried out, insures the safe working of a mine and will considerably reduce the causes of explosions. 7. The introduction of a typewriter envelope as a universal book, to careful typewriter writers proves how extensively correspondence is carried out by means of the ingenious typewriter machine, and how manufacturers of the day are content with the use of the new invention. The peculiarity of these novel square envelopes is to offer a splendidly even surface for the writing of letters, and to be written in the space where the address has to be written. In this wise, whatever typewriter is employed, any unsightly "shadowing" is avoided and perfect alignment secured. It is worth noting, too, as a sign of the advance of modern civilization, that the very first draft of the new invention dispatched from England was for Reikiavik, which boasts of the only typewriter in the whole of Iceland.—Philadelphia Press.

RE "TIPPED" HIM THE GLOVES.

It is related of the famous Jones Hanway that, on being politely reproached by a nobleman for not coming oftener to dine with him, he replied:

"Indeed, my lord, I cannot afford it." On another occasion, when, during the string of servants, who, as usual, appeared on the scene as he was leaving the house he had visited.

"Look here, I know what I want. You wrap up three for a half dollar."

"Can't I buy two?" anxiously inquired the blond young man. "Only want two."

"Of course, but you save 10 cents by taking three," said the clerk. "I'll just wrap up three for a half dollar."

"Look here, I know what I want. You wrap up two collars."

"I want two collars, and I have 40 cents to pay for them, and"

"You lose a dime—three for 50," insisted the clerk as he reluctantly wrapped up the neckwear.

"He does a case a day!" howled the blond young man in a rage. "I know what I want—two collars, a beer and a nickel to pay my street car fare home."

"Now, can I get two collars for 40 cents or not?" and the blond young man foamed at the mouth in his righteous indignation.

"He got the two collars. The clerk swooned. He hadn't thought of the beer and the street car."—St. Louis Republic.

THE JOBBERS' UNION.

Capt. Flynn to Be Conferred With in Regard to South Shore Business.

The jobbers' union proposes to make the best possible arrangements for cheap freights to the south shore and copper country during next summer. At the monthly meeting of the union yesterday afternoon a committee was appointed to confer with Capt. Con Flynn, of the steamer Stewart, in reference to the south shore business.

The Bailey bankruptcy bill now pending in congress was reported on by a committee and was freely discussed. The members found considerable fault with it. The clause allowing creditors to select the assignee was not approved and the provision allowing one partner to file application for an assignee, regardless of others in the firm, was declared dangerous. The matter was referred to the committee on legislation and Minnesota's representatives in congress will be asked to oppose the bill, or at least those and some other features of it.

CAN BE PROSECUTED.

Chance to Get at the Operators of Blind Pigs on the Ice.

It may not be generally known that the men who are running blind pigs on the ice between Duluth and Superior can be prosecuted vigorously if the authorities so desire on another charge. The law expressly prohibits the erection of any wharf, dock or structure of any kind outside of the established harbor lines on government waters. The offense is made a misdemeanor punishable by $500 fine or one year imprisonment or both. A complaint can be made before the United States court commissioner and the men who erected the shanties can be put in a decidedly embarrassing position.

WILL NOT EJECT HIM.

Judge Moer Refuses to Compel Agent Kennedy to Give Up the Great Western Property.

He Holds That the Federal Court Receiver is Entitled to Trial to Determine His Rights.

It Must Now Be Determined Which Receiver Has the Prior Right to the Property.

Receiver Moore, of the Great Western Manufacturing company, will have to try some new method of getting control of the property of the insolvent company. Judge Moer filed an order this morning dismissing the order to show cause why John Kennedy, agent of E. F. Fowle, should not be compelled to give up the property and denying the motion for a compelling order.

Accompanying the order is a memorandum in which Judge Moer says: "In my judgment this is clearly a question of title between the parties and the defendant, Kennedy having acquired possession of the property for Receiver Fowle prior to the proceedings begun in the state court he cannot be summarily ordered to turn the property over, but is entitled to a trial and determination of his rights in the ordinary manner. So far as this proceeding is concerned it is wholly immaterial in my judgment whether title of the United States court receiver is good or bad; it cannot be disputed in this matter. For this reason the order to show cause is dismissed and the motion is denied."

This is one tally for the United States court receiver, though it does not affect the title of either receiver in the slightest. A new suit will probably be brought which will determine the rights of the receivers, for if this matter does not affect or determine who is in the right there is nothing to be gained by appealing it.

John A. Coke and Peyton Wise have sued D. P. Redding et al. to foreclose a mortgage for $32,000 on thirty lots in Harrison's division. It is alleged that Redding not only failed to pay the notes on which the mortgage is based, but he failed to pay taxes, and plaintiffs were compelled to pay $3586.74 to prevent the land being sold for taxes. They wish the mortgage foreclosed, the land sold and payment of the notes and taxes made.

There are about nineteen other defendants, some of whom claim an interest in the property and plaintiffs wish their titles decided.

In the matter of the application of the board of public works for an order confirming the final plan for paving and otherwise improving Fifth avenue west, on application of the Spalding Hotel company, Judge Moer has dismissed the application, sustaining the hotel company's objections.

Edward L. Woodworth has commenced divorce proceedings against Elmida A. Woodworth, a married woman, in 1886 at Anoka, alleging desertion for the space of more than three years.

Robert Colton, A. K. McDonald, W. H. Colton and T. H. Farnsworth, who sue Gustave Schneider to recover $240 which they assert Schneider promised to pay upon proving up certain pine lands providing the lands contained 1,000,000 feet of timber. It is alleged that Schneider has proved up and that the land is fairly bristling with pine, yet Schneider has failed thus far to give the plaintiffs the promised $240 and the aid of the court in bringing him around is asked.

SURVEY SYSTEM

Proposal to Put an End to the Present System of Surveys of Public Lands.

Plan to Abolish the Contract System and Have it Done by the Geological Survey.

Under the Present Way There is a Great Waste of Energy, Time and Money.

The Need of a Change Was Recommended by Secretary Smith and the Land Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Representative Dockery, the moving factor of the Dockery commission, says he does not think there will be sufficient time at the present session to carry out the plan contemplated by the commission for a reorganization of the system of surveying public lands. The plan of the commission was to consolidate three bureaus which are now practically duplicating the work of the other. These are the geological survey, the coast and geodetic survey and the surveying branch of the general land office.

It has been hoped to merge these into one bureau, probably the geological survey, under one head to be known as surveyor general. After thus simplifying the organization, the purpose was to reform the system itself. At present the surveys of public lands are let by contract, but the change contemplated doing away with this and leaving the work to the consolidated bureau.

Another change was in the simplifying of this system in local land offices. The house committee on appropriations is also considering a plan of reorganizing the survey system. It is not as comprehensive a reform as the Dockery commission has considered. The need of the change was recommended by Secretary of the Interior Smith, and commissioner of the land office in their annual reports. The latter said:

"At present the United States goes over large unsurveyed areas in the West twice and even three times. For the topographic branch of the geological survey, at work making topographic maps of great areas in the West, often times after the geodetic survey has covered the same region by triangulation and at the same time that these parties are covering the country the United States is employing contractors to divide the country into squares, provided by our rectangular system of public land surveys, for the purpose of disposition under the public land laws.

"It appears to me on the face of it that this system means a waste of energy, of time and of money, that there is no good reason why the topographic work and the land survey may not be done at the same time, by the same party, in very little longer time than is now required to do the topographic work, and should this system be adopted, it would not be necessary for any contract to be entered into nor any of those delays incident to the making of the contract."

Acting on this suggestion, an estimate of $100,000 has been made for combining these surveys, under the direction of the geological survey, and the abolition of contract surveys. As yet, however, the appropriations committee has not passed on the question but will take it up as a part of the sundry civil appropriation bill now under consideration.

CHAT WITH HILL

The Great Northern President Talks at Washington in Regard to the Minnesota Senatorial Fight.

Thinks Nelson Has Beaten Washburn, but Does Not Believe that Knute Will Win Himself.

Comstock or McCleary Will Not Cut Much of a Figure, Although Both Good Fellows.

Mr. Hill Would Not Be Surprised to See Charley Pillsbury Come to the Front.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—J. J. Hill arrived in Washington last evening, accompanied by Samuel Hill. Mrs. J. J. Hill, Miss Hill and Mrs. Samuel Hill have been here for some time, and today the Great Northern president will go to New York with his wife and daughter and tomorrow they sail for Europe. Mr. Hill, when seen at the Shoreham last evening, disclaimed any inside information on the senatorial situation in St. Paul, but said from surface indications he was of the opinion that Senator Washburn could not be re-elected.

"I think that Nelson's candidacy has made Washburn's election impossible," said he, "but I do not think that Nelson will himself be successful. He is not popular. In fact, considering the position and prestige he has attained in politics, I am surprised that he has so few real friends."

Having thus disposed of the two leading candidates, Mr. Hill was asked who he thought would win. He said: "I think that the Hennepin delegate will be loyal to Washburn, so long as he holds his own or gains, but if he falls behind in the race I look to see the Minneapolis support go to the popular miller. He is strong outside of Minneapolis, too, and would make a good run. I don't think either Comstock or McCleary will cut much of a figure in the race, although they are both good fellows."

Discussing the financial situation, Mr. Hill said that the business of the Northwest was in far better shape than it was a few months ago, and would revive as quickly as in any other part of the country, under the impetus of wise legislation.

"We need financial legislation at once," said he, "and I am confident that we shall get it, perhaps before this congress adjourns. If not, it will come early in the next session, extra or regular, for the country will not submit to more patchwork legislation. The patriotic men of both parties must come to the rescue. The trouble with the Fifty-third congress is that it is controlled by the men from the districts of the South where no great business interests are represented. We shall have wise legislation when the solid South is broken up, and by a division of its membership politically loses the preponderance of influence which it now possesses in national legislation."

Mr. Hill will call on President Cleveland today.

AS VIEWED AT ST. PAUL.

Candidates Now "Making Public Sentiment" in the Country.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 12.—[Special to The Herald.]—Senatorial matters are very quiet today. The absence of members takes away the material on which to work, and at the same time removes the seat of war to the various districts throughout the state. Headquarters are open here and there and looked over by the various managers, but there are few visitors, the chief work here being in the way of preparation for next week.

But all over the state representatives of the various candidates are working up the people on the subject and when the members return for work on Monday it will be with the requests and demands from their constituents to support all the chief candidates in the field. It will be for them to decide which demand is the proper one to give heed to, and little can be judged by the reports of feeling from the country, as such reports are sure to be conflicting, Nelson and Washburn both being, it is alleged, in the business of "making public sentiment" in their favor.

The interview with President J. J. Hill in Washington is notable in this connection, in that it agrees with what was stated in these dispatches over a week ago. Your correspondent then said Nelson would probably be defeated himself, after he had accomplished the defeat of Washburn; and then if Comstock was unsuccessful, the plan would go, to some new man. Mr. Hill says all of this with the addition that he believes Charley Pillsbury will probably be the dark horse.

That of course remains to be seen, and the probable outcome grows more interesting daily.

DELIBERATELY DESTROYED.

Vandals Entered Richard Shell's Flats and Damaged Plumbing and Wiring.

Thursday night the flats which Richard Shell is erecting on East First street between Eighth and Ninth avenues east were entered by some miscreants who deliberately damaged the plumbing and electrical work to the extent of $300. They went through each flat, breaking out pipes and pulling out wirings. It is suspected that some enemy of the contractors was responsible for it. N. C. Harvey & Co. are doing the plumbing and the Crowley Electric company the wiring. The damage was not discovered until last evening.

Professor R. S. T. Paton, analytical and consulting chemist, late chemist Chicago health department, says: "I have been examining various baking powders, and have always found Dr. Price's to be a scientifically prepared, pure mixture."

Bank of St. Charles Closed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 12.—A St. Charles, Minn., special to the Journal says: The bank of St. Charles was closed this morning on the order of the state bank examiner. Its stock is $25,000. President J. F. Kingland owes the bank more than the 15 per cent of capital stock allowed by law. A receiver will likely be appointed.

The "Why" of Colors.

The theory has been advanced that the conspicuous colors developed in various species of snakes, insects and animals are nature's method of advertising the fact that such are poisonous, either in the bite or sting which they inflict, or that the flesh is unpalatable if used for food. The believers in this theory offer the wonderful display of colors in the eelgrass wasp, the coral snake, the horridum fish and the Gila monster.—St. Louis Republic.

Scientific Progress.

"I notice," said the tall pale girl with low high forehead, "that there is much progress being made now in photographing the stars."

"Oh, yes," answered the fluffy girl. "They use them for cigarette pictures."

The Roman soldiers must have been powerful men. Many of the swords that have been recovered from tombs weigh six to ten pounds, while the battleaxes often weigh 20.

While Crazed By Jealousy He Drew a Razor Across the Shrieking Woman's Jugular Vein.

Then He Rushed to a Factory and Tried to Shoot a Man Whom He Disliked.

Others Rushed Forward and Seized the Maniac Before He Could Shoot a Second Time.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Crazed by jealousy Jacob Miller, a furniture polisher residing at 661 North Wood street, cut his wife's throat from ear to ear with a razor at 9 o'clock this morning. The woman expired instantly. Miller then rushed from the house to the factory where he was employed and shot James Olander, the foreman, inflicting a slight wound over the eyes. This morning instead of going to work Miller sat about the house quarreling with his wife until 9 o'clock. The workday had waxed fiercer every moment, and the man's two little children were hiding, terrified, behind their mother.

Suddenly Miller stepped toward his wife and drew a razor from his pocket. Seizing the shrieking woman by the hair, he pulled her head back. She fell on her knees and her husband drew the blade across her throat, cutting the jugular vein. The murdered woman sank forward on the floor as Miller relaxed his hold, her life blood gushing from the ghastly wound.

Dropping the razor Miller rushed from the house to Karpen Bros. factory. Hurrying into the work room where he was employed, he faced James Olander, the foreman, whom he considered his enemy. Before the victim could run for safety, Miller drew a revolver and fired at Olander. The bullet struck the foreman over the right eye, plowed a furrow in his forehead and glanced off.

Workmen rushed forward and seized the maniac before he could fire again and secured the weapon, while others aided the wounded man. Miller refused to say why he killed his wife. He was said by the neighbors to have been very jealous of his pretty young wife and quarrels had been frequent.

AN EXPERT'S OPINION

Julius Ropes, of Ishpeming, Gives the Result of His Examination of the Wiegand Property.

He Finds Conditions Extremely Favorable for the Permanency of the Seine River Region Deposits.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, Reported to Have Interested Himself in Property Near the Wiegand.

Julius Ropes, the Ishpeming expert, returned from Rainy Lake yesterday accompanied by L. C. and J. F. Foley. They paid a visit to the Seine region, saw that operations on the Wiegand property were progressing, and came back loaded with specimens and fully confirmed in their opinions of that country. Mr. Ropes went up for the purpose of examining the Wiegand, and as he is an expert of many years' experience, and as his opinion is entirely trustworthy, the result of his investigations has been awaited with interest by all concerned. A Herald man saw him yesterday and asked his opinion of the Rainy Lake gold deposits.

"I was very favorably impressed with the country, and very agreeably surprised, though I had been somewhat prepared for what I saw by the specimens I had seen in Duluth. My observations were confined to a comparatively small section of the country, that between Bad Vermilion lake and Shoal lake, consisting of what is called by the Canadian geologists gabbro, with which term, by the way, I disagree. That, however, is so far the most important part of the district, as it comprises the largest mines. I found the ground very frequently intersected by veins of considerable size, all well mineralized. These veins are all well defined and continue a long way on the surface, arguing very favorably for their continuity and depth.

"The conditions are all extremely favorable to the permanency of these deposits. The only property I can vouch for free gold was the Wiegand, as that was my errand. The rose colored quartz, so far as my observation extended, seems to be principally confined to that property. The average of the veins in the region is wonderful. They range in width from a few inches up to eight feet. The only property I can vouch for from my own investigations is the Wiegand as I had no time to make more than a cursory examination of the others. I have taken a number of samples which I shall analyze, however, and as the conditions on the other properties are similar there is no doubt whatever of their value.

Favorable for Gold.
"The formation is very favorable for gold ores. The types of rocks found there are the same as those in which gold is found in other parts of the world, such as serpentine, mica schists, green schists, and some of the granites. The conditions are also very favorable for operating cheaply. Wood and water are abundant, and there are no hills to interfere as in more mountainous gold regions. Notwithstanding the fact that the only samples I have carefully examined are from the Wiegand, I am well satisfied that there are extensive deposits, and I think there will be built up there a most profitable gold mining industry. Conditions are also extremely favorable for agriculture in parts of the country.

"The business must be conducted in a business like manner, however, and the country needs lots of capital for its development. As to the veins, they are true fissures. I am positive that they are. They could be nothing else, running as they do at right angles to the formation. Of course there are many smaller veins of the variety known as gashed or bedded veins, which are not true fissures, but many of the larger and more important veins are undoubtedly true fissures.

"Although the depth of the veins has not been definitely ascertained by deep shafts, there need be no fear of that. The extent of the surface shows indicate depth. Veins do not readily play out. They will often pinch out to a small compass and will again widen out. In the West they are now opening up old properties which have been abandoned for years on account of the pinching out of veins. On the whole, the geological conditions of the country and the showings of the properties are decidedly favorable, and the assays will carry as high an average as any fields in the country.

Many On the Road.

On the way down from the Seine the party passed forty people on their way to the country. Their horses were passed which had played out because of their newness to the country. The Watzke party was passed with three loads, containing part of their mill for the Drywood island property and a piano.

The work on the Wiegand is going on, though it has been under difficulties on account of the trouble in getting stuff in. The weather has been very cold, and the ice on the lake has risen in furlows several feet high through which it has been necessary to cut a road. The boarding house for the men has been put up and work on the too-foot shaft has been started. A full crew will be on in a few days.

The road from Kettle Falls to Shoal lake has been cut through, and is now in good condition.

Better AND Cheaper.

THE ROYAL BAKING POWDER is more economical than other brands because of its greater leavening strength, as shown by both the U. S. and Canadian Government Reports.

The other baking powders contain from 20 to 80 per cent. less leavening gas than the ROYAL. So the ROYAL, even should it cost more than the others, would be much the cheaper.

In addition to this the superior flavor, sweetness, wholesomeness and delicacy of the food raised by ROYAL BAKING POWDER would make any difference in cost insignificant.

Highest of all in leavening strength.— Latest U. S. Government Food Report.

W. D. Dwyer, of West Superior, has bought a half interest in location K 107, near the base line, known as the "Archibald." The terms of the purchase require a stump pull and a 50-foot shaft. The property must be worked and half of the profits go to the feeholders. The price is stated to be $15,000 for the half interest.

Senator Jones Is Interested.
Capt. Whitford has made a contract to sink a shaft three-fourths of a mile west of the mine. F. D. Foley, who represents Western mining capital, said to be that of Senator Jones, of Nevada, who is interested in several Western gold properties, notably the famous Cornstock lode.

A particularly rich discovery is reported five miles east of Shoal lake. Capt. F. Foley has secured a lease for its purchase. Some very rich specimens are exhibited by him from this property which are thickly encrusted with gold.

D. L. Kelly, who has within a few months become interested with others in Seine river properties, has the following to say about his mine: "We have five miles adjacent to the Hillier mine, on which we have located nine veins which run from two feet to a quarter of a mile, containing pure gold properties. We have four shafts sunk in different veins. One of them is fifteen feet deep in eight to twelve feet of clear quartz. Another vein is three feet wide on the surface and is three and one-half feet wide at a depth of eighteen feet. An average assay from a number of specimens from this vein shows $36 in gold and 58 cents in silver.

"A quarter of a mile and is from six inches to one foot wide on the surface and is fifteen feet in twenty inches wide. The walls are smooth and clear and run at a slight angle from the surface. Every specimen shows free gold. Mr. Ropes now has some specimens from which he will make assays.

"Another vein is twelve feet wide with only one shaft so far. The quartz is full of nuggets, and I have a phial half full of coarse nuggets from this vein. Some of the quartz assays $500. The outcrop is about 100 feet long and while it may not be a vein it contains plenty of quartz."

Mrs. Kniberg and McCaskey had a row and when he attempted to leave the room she blocked the way. He "removed her gently" as one witness put it and passed out. The costs, which amounted to $100, were assessed against Mrs. Kniberg.

THE DEMAND OF JAPAN

Report From Berlin That Japan Has Formulated Her Conditions for Peace With the Chinese.

Wants Independence of Corea With Japanese Suzerainty, Cession of Chinese Islands and an Indemnity.

Demand Is Also Made for Razing of Taku Forts and Demolition of Other Forts.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent telegraphs that he hears that Japan has formulated her conditions for peace with China. They are the independence of Corea, Japanese suzerainty, the cession of certain Chinese islands, the razing of the Taku forts, the deprivation of Port Arthur and Wei-Hai-Wei of their character as naval ports and their dismantling, the demolition of all forts in the way from Corea to China, an admission of Japan's rights to prescribe the number and type of China's men-of-war, the payment of a heavy indemnity and, possibly, the negotiation of a Chinese-Japanese alliance.

The Japanese are steadily advancing on China. The terms of the peace treaty they are making a stand. Heavy snow impedes the progress of the armies. Several skirmishes have occurred and in their retreat the Chinese have left numbers of their wounded behind them.

Her Subscriptions.
At the time of a recent rebellion in Ireland, known as Smith O'Brien's, the region where Frances Power Cobbe lived and worked among the poor was transacted by a series of small, but a little later, under snow, but mud. Clubs were formed for the purpose of buying pikes, to be used whenever the leaders at Dublin should call for an insurrection. The result was as harmless as the bursting of a bubble, but meantime there had been real danger for all landed proprietors, whose downfall had been determined upon. One incident related by Miss Cobbe shows her innocent participation in the rebellion. She says:

"I was visiting the father pater at Bally and was detained in the village quite late one summer evening. So many were ill that it took a long time to supply them with food and all things necessary. At one house, where three persons were ill, I lingered, questioning and prescribing, until about 9 o'clock. When I went away, I left money to purchase the articles I had prescribed. Next morning my father said to me:

"You were not at Bally last night?"
"Yes, I was kept there."
"You said in Tyrrell's house till 9 o'clock?"
"Yes, how do you know?"
"You gave six and sixpence to the mother to get provisions?"
"Yes, how do you know?"
"Well, very simply. The police were watching the door and saw you through it. As soon as you were gone the club assembled there. They were waiting for you to depart. The money you gave was subscribed to buy pikes—of course to pike me!"—Youth's Companion.

A Look Ahead.

FASHION OF BEARDS.

There Was a Time When Courage Was Needed to Wear Them.

The beard and mustache came into fashion among Englishmen so recently that middle aged folks can easily recollect when it required some courage to lay the razor aside and still more to face the world during the initial stages of the result. Toward the close of last century the second Lord Rokeby endeavored to restore the pointed beard, which went out with the Stuarts. His countrymen would not hear of such an innovation and recalled the hero of the Gordon riots, who, when he turned Jew, allowed his beard to grow and many others of high rank, like Wolington, never wore it at any period of their career.

Even Napoleon remained throughout his smooth faced and generally pilled the razor himself. "One born to be a king," Talleyrand explained to Rogers, "has some one to shave him, but they who acquire kingdoms shave themselves." Naval officers, many of whom are, in common with their men, bearded like the par—though even they are subject to certain rules in this respect—used to be still more strictly tied down. A mustache, far less a beard, was never seen about. The mustaches of foreign soldiers never failed to excite the amusement and contempt of our blue jackets, just as the bearded lips of a visitor, or at once stamped him as not to the island born—was a proof of a "Peechey," a German waiter, a singer or a circus rider.

Dickens gives expression to this popular feeling in "Martin Chuzzlewit" when he endows Montagu Flagg with a mustache and the semimilitary frock coat then in favor with shady gentlemen who liked to be addressed as "captain." "Him!" Mark Tapley's contemptuous observation. "I could see him a little better if he'd shave himself and get his hair cut. I don't have any such. Peter the Wild Boy in my house, not if I was paid two week prices for it. He's enough to turn the very best soldier. Yet Dickens himself heard in his latter years.—London Standard.

His Dent.
"But what can you do, young man? Haven't you some special talent or taste—some bent, as they say?"
Applicant (dubiously).—No, not that I can think of, except that I am a little bowlegged.—London Tit-Bits.

PERFECTION IN TRAVEL.

A WORLD-FAMOUS RAILWAY TRAIN

WORTH NEARLY A QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS.

Magnificent Compartments With the Privacy of Home or Hotel Room.

ELEGANCE OF THE WONDERFUL PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED.

The art of railroad travel, for it surely is an art, has practically been reduced to science also, and nowhere is that science so closely studied and its successful workings so clearly manifest as on the Pennsylvania Lines. This vast system puts the Northwest and the West in touch with the East and South. Its steel rails connect Chicago—the natural gateway—with Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and New York on the East; and with Indianapolis, Louisville, Dayton, Springfield, Columbus and Cincinnati on the South. Their importance as the principal avenues of travel between the most populous portions of the country demands careful attention to details in management and operation, hence improvements in the various branches of railroading as a rule make their initial appearance on these lines.

THE PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED, and state rooms; sleeping apartments; bath and barber shop. Liquid refreshments are served in the buffet, from which one may order anything from a bottle of beer to the finest brands of champagne. Leaving Chicago Union station daily at 5:30 p. m., the palatable dinner served on the Pennsylvania Limited is scarcely over when the train rolls into Fort Wayne, having made the run of 148 miles to that city without a stop. The train is far into the state of Ohio before the hour marks the customary retiring time. Pittsburgh is reached at 6:00 a. m., and passengers destined for points beyond the Iron City who are not early risers, awake to find that the hive of industry has been passed while they were sleeping. The ever-changing romantic scenery of the Allegheny mountains forms a pleasing panorama on arising. After the morning meal, the grandeur of the famous Horse Shoe Curve followed by picturesque views of the Blue Juniata and rich pastoral scenes of Eastern Pennsylvania may be enjoyed from the dining observatory. Harrisburg is reached in the early afternoon; Philadelphia at 4 o'clock and New York at 6:30 p. m. The buffet parlor car carrying

It is a wonderful exposition of the remarkable advancement that characterizes railway transportation facilities of the present day. This train represents an investment of over two hundred thousand dollars and it can be readily imagined that its magnificence is grand to the extreme.

The Pennsylvania Limited is usually composed of six cars with perfect vestibule attachments enclosing them into practically one elongated car having a series of apartments of perfect vestibules are an improvement over the old style, as the floor projects out over the steps, making a wide passage, and the vestibule extends all the way down to the floor. Pullman Smoking, Library, Dining, Sleeping and Observation Cars make up this series of compartments. In this whirling palace, perfection in travel is exemplified in its highest degree. The interiors are finished in most excellent style. The upholstery, the elaborate decorations, the highly polished hardwood finish, the burnished brass chandelier electric light fixtures, give a fascinating effect to the surroundings.

Dining Car.
THE PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED.

This delightful ensemble is not for the eye alone, but is adapted to the requirements of travel. The cosy smoking compartments with their comfortable arm chairs and divans, are pleasant retreats for smokers. Meals served in the dining car constitute menus that out rival the culinary productions of noted caterers. The service includes the finest china, cut glass and silverware. The dining car, with its convenient book cases, tables and desks, are interesting books, magazines and the daily papers. The sleeping cars, with their rich curtains and beautiful rugs, are well arranged for the comfort of their occupants during the day time, and at night the roomy berths invite to restful slumber. The observation car brings up the rear of the train and has a large portico, protected by polished brass railings, free from any obstruction to the sight. From this car passengers may be viewed the dissolving scenery.

The recent addition of compartment cars to the equipment of this train is in harmony with its completeness. In design and finish they are the finest cars constructed to date. Their arrangement into drawing rooms and state rooms affords the privacy of home or of a hotel room. Women traveling alone, or with children, as well as invalids, will find all desired seclusion in these cars. Each compartment is supplied with individual lavatories, and is fitted up in luxury.

Disinfective features. The Pennsylvania Limited include a barber shop where one may be safely shaved, by a deft barber while the train is going a mile a minute; and an experienced waiting maid whose special care is the one comfort of ladies and children. There are also bath rooms for both sexes. Stock reports are bulletined on the train so that one may trade as he travels, an expert stenographer and typewriter being at his command for the conduct of correspondence. His services and those of the waiting maid are given gratis.

The Pennsylvania Limited is in reality a flying hotel of the most modern type. It has its smoking and reading compartments; dining room, drawing rooms and state rooms; sleeping apartments; bath and barber shop. Liquid refreshments are served in the buffet, from which one may order anything from a bottle of beer to the finest brands of champagne. Leaving Chicago Union station daily at 5:30 p. m., the palatable dinner served on the Pennsylvania Limited is scarcely over when the train rolls into Fort Wayne, having made the run of 148 miles to that city without a stop. The train is far into the state of Ohio before the hour marks the customary retiring time. Pittsburgh is reached at 6:00 a. m., and passengers destined for points beyond the Iron City who are not early risers, awake to find that the hive of industry has been passed while they were sleeping. The ever-changing romantic scenery of the Allegheny mountains forms a pleasing panorama on arising. After the morning meal, the grandeur of the famous Horse Shoe Curve followed by picturesque views of the Blue Juniata and rich pastoral scenes of Eastern Pennsylvania may be enjoyed from the dining observatory. Harrisburg is reached in the early afternoon; Philadelphia at 4 o'clock and New York at 6:30 p. m. The buffet parlor car carrying

THE FIRST VESTIBULE TRAIN IN SERVICE WAS RUN OVER THEM BETWEEN NEW YORK AND CHICAGO. In the natural order of improvement it has undergone changes and is now the world-famous Pennsylvania Limited. There is Nothing Like an Ulster for This Weather!

It's a zero coat. It's constructed to keep out the cold. It is meant to cover you all over: either walking or sitting it reaches near the feet. It does the duty of robe and wrap when riding. Its collar warms and keeps warm the ears. Its pockets make and keep comfortable your hands. Best of all—small cost—That is to say, $8 buys a very good one—all wool. Have you an Overcoat? Good, that's right. Add an inexpensive Ulster for this weather and you're fixed. The demand has been so great for them during

TO SUCCEED ARMSTRONG.

Thomas P. Smith Named for Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Thomas P. Smith, of Indian territory, nominated today to be assistant commissioner of Indian affairs to succeed Gen. Frank C. Armstrong, had a long experience in the Indian service, though still a young man. He first entered business life in New York city and then went to Arizona. He was a clerk at the San Carlos Apache agency in 1887, and later became agent of the Osage Indians in Indian territory.

He was there during the opening of the Cherokee strip and gained a thorough knowledge of Oklahoma affairs. In April, 1893, he was appointed assistant agent of the interior department and later an inspector. He was personally acquainted with the details of the work of almost all of the reservations, the affairs of many of which he had occasion to investigate. He will take charge immediately upon his confirmation.

It is understood that Maj. James McLaughlin, agent of the Standing Rock agency in North Dakota, for twenty-five years actively employed in the service, will be selected to fill the vacancy in the force of inspectors.

Later—McLaughlin has been appointed an inspector, and John W. Grams, of North Dakota, has been appointed agent at Standing Rock.

Baldwin Not Disappointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Baldwin said today that he was not surprised over the appointment of John P. Smith, of New York as assistant commissioner of Indian affairs today. While he had been mentioned as a candidate for this place he never sought the appointment, he said.

Taylor's Delocation.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—A secret conference of the bondsmen of W. W. Taylor, the defaulting treasurer of South Dakota was held today. Ex-Governor A. C. Mellette, of South Dakota, said he never expects to see Taylor again, unless he is captured. He thought Taylor took $200,000 with him. The bondsmen will lose every cent they have. He had not the faintest idea where Taylor is.

Tibbals Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—[Special to The Herald.]—As was predicted last week would be the case, W. R. Tibbals, of Rock Island, Ill., was today appointed supervising inspector of steam vessels for the Fifth district, which includes Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Pension Granted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—[Special to The Herald.]—An original pension was today granted to Benjamin F. Kephart, of Long Prairie, Minn.

STILL CHASTIC.

There is Little Change in the Senatorial Situation. The Result is Yet Doubtful.

Washburn and Nelson as Confidant as Ever, But Neither Claims Enough Votes to Elect.

Comstock Saying Little, But is Not Hopeless, and McCleary is Not at All Despondent.

Report That Nelson's Friends Have Agreed to Support McCleary for Governor Two Years Hence.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 14.—The senatorial situation shows no new phases today, all the same candidates being in the field with about the same strength as last week. The members of the two houses are slowly returning from their homes, but so far as yet reported there have been no conversions of the unpledged, nor have there been any secessions from the ranks of the various candidates. The various stories about McCleary are laughed at by his supporters, who insist that he is in the tight for the senatorial plum with the best kind of chances of success. The fact of his candidacy seems worrying some of the leaders in the other camp and that pleases the ex-schoolmaster.

Washburn and Nelson are still as confident as ever, but neither claims enough pledged votes to win on first ballot, although both claim that they will have no trouble in winning. The Nelson men are just as positive that Washburn will be defeated as they have been at any time for the past two days. Comstock is saying little but he is quietly watching the trend of thought among the legislators and is by no means hopeless.

By tomorrow morning, the members will be about all present and something may be reliably estimated then, but tonight many will not have got out of their homes, and from their journey to state their positions.

MCCLEARY FOR GOVERNOR.

One Reason Why He is in the Field for Senator.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—The Tribune this morning prints the following: One of the stories will interest the people who for weeks have been putting in their spare time guessing why Congressman McCleary entered the race for the senatorship comes from Mankato, the home of the schoolmaster statesman. They say that Professor McCleary is not so innocent as he seems to be to men who do not know him. The idea is that Mr. McCleary knew exactly what he was doing when he went into the senatorship fight, and it is said to be a pretty clever one for a man who three years ago was a modest and hard working professor of civics in one of the normal schools.

This is the story as it comes from Mankato: McCleary knew that the second district politicians were after him. They thought that two years in the legislature was enough for one man as long as there were so many other patriotic men in the party waiting for a chance to gain undying glory by having their names printed in the congressional directory and their autographs serve instead of postage stamps upon government documents. As McCleary's name was in the directory, he was assured by Nelson's friends that if he entered the race for the senatorship, they would support him for the governorship in two years. Mr. McCleary would like to be governor, and with the support of the northern part of the state assured it seems a pretty easy task for a man coming from the second district to make a combination which would make him the party's standard bearer in 1896.

Five Men Stabbed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 14.—Two Hungarians, Michael Patsko and John Nimba, were fatally stabbed last night during a drunken riot in Hanover township. A score of Huns who had been endeavoring to consume all the intoxicants in the village got into a quarrel, the usual result of such orgies and before the disturbance had been quelled, five had been stabbed.

SOME LAND DECISIONS.

Four rulings received today from Secretary Hoke Smith.

The local United States land office this morning received four decisions from Hoke Smith, secretary of the interior.

The first was that of Daniel W. Murphy vs. William Logan, involving the sw 1/4 ne 1/4 se 1/4 nw 1/4 and lot 2, section 30, township 52, range 10.

The secretary reverses the commissioner's decision and directs the cancellation of Logan's filing and orders that Murphy's entry stand subject to compliance with law.

In the case of Frank T. Scott vs. Bartholomew Coffey, a homestead contest, a decision is rendered concerning in the commissioner's ruling that Scott has sustained his contest.

June 5, 1893, the commissioners held for the cancellation of William Schuessler's homestead entry. Secretary Smith affirms the decision at it.

Alexander Smith appealed to the secretary from the commissioner's decision, holding for cancellation his homestead entry in the contest brought against him by J. W. Hunt. The secretary reverses the decision and dismisses the contest.

French Ministry Resigned.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The Dupuy ministry has resigned.

BIG STRIKE IN BROOKLYN.

The Trolley Car Employes, Numbering Five Thousand Men, Quit Work.

BROOKLYN, Jan. 14.—At 5 o'clock this morning all the trolley cars in Brooklyn were tied up, the employes refusing to take out the cars. Over 5000 men quit work. This includes motormen, conductors, electricians, switchmen and others employed at the various power houses. All but one of the surface roads, and that a comparatively minor concern, are affected.

It is claimed that the strike will extend to the lines of the Brooklyn Elevated Railway company. The contract between the Kings County Elevated Railway company and its employes is such that it is believed there can be no strike on that line.

The district assembly 75, K. of L., which has control of all the trolley line employes in Brooklyn, has held various meetings during the past few weeks and after the meeting on Saturday their executive committee waited upon President Lewis, of the Brooklyn Heights road and a suit asked that he grant their demands. They discussed the question for three and a half hours in President Lewis' office and finally Mr. Lewis refused to grant their demands.

The outcome of this was that the committee held a meeting which ended at 1 o'clock this morning, at which it was decided to tie up all the roads in the city of Brooklyn with the exception of the Smith and Jay street line. This was done this morning, and not a car outside of the Smith and Jay street line is running.

The men's grievances and demands are thus stated: The state law provides that a day's work of street railway employes shall be ten hours, within twelve consecutive hours. It is alleged that the corporations have required the men to work eleven hours and even later twelve hours, with no interval longer than ten minutes for lunch, and even depriving them of that brief time in most instances. The wage rate agreed upon a year ago was $2 for the statutory day's work; the companies, it is alleged have made no allowance for over time. The men demand adherence to the law regarding hours in a day's work, or $2.25 for a day of ten hours.

PARISIANS WERE SCARED.

A Bomb Explosion That Was Evidently a Practical Joke.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—A bomb explosion occurred at about midnight in front of No. 65 Rue Monceau and is believed to have been the work of anarchists. No body was killed, but considerable damage was done in the vicinity. The bomb is described as being of the reversible sort, chiefly charged with dynamite, packed in gun powder and concealed in an English tin cracker box strengthened by a thick band of aluminum.

It appears that a porter on duty at No. 65 Rue Monceau just before midnight was informed by a passer-by that a suspicious looking parcel had been placed on the ground. The porter in alarm rushed to the spot and seizing the parcel, he hurried it into the middle of the street, where it exploded, followed by showers of shot were buried in all directions, breaking all the windows in the vicinity although they were protected by iron shutters.

During the morning the chief of the municipal laboratory was engaged in examining the scene of the explosion. Lot 4—72 inches wide, 95¢, worth $1.25. Lot 5—72 inches wide, $1.25, worth $1.60. Lot 6—72 inches wide, $1.35, worth $1.75.

MANY SAILORS WRECKED AND THE CREWS LOST.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The British steamer Rowan has foundered in the bay of Biscay. One of her boats containing six men alive and two dead has been picked up. The other boat which was launched with seven men, including the officers and been lost.

The Italian bark Therese, from Liverpool for Trieste, has been wrecked near Stranford. The captain and seven of the crew were rescued, three others were drowned. The brigantine Satus from Rochester to Sunderland has been stranded at Donnanook, Lincolnshire. The crew were rescued by the rockers apparatus. An unknown brig has foundered off Hale. The crew perished.

The Cashier Succeeded.

DOVER, N. H., Jan. 14.—United States Marshal Campbell arrived in the city this afternoon and a warrant for Cashier Abbott's arrest was at once issued. The defaulting banker had been coming, and going to his room he deliberately shot himself through the head.

In Behalf of Debs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In the supreme court of the United States today, C. S. Darrow, acting as counsel for Eugene V. Debs and others engaged in the Chicago strike of last summer, made application for writs of error and habeas corpus. The court decided to hear arguments for the writ of error Wednesday.

Sues the Bondsman's Estate.

An appeal from the probate court has been filed in the district court by A. H. Shoemaker in the matter of the estate of J. G. Calais, deceased. Shoemaker is the attorney for the Lancashire Insurance company. William A. Teall did not account for some premiums paid to him as the company's agent. Shoemaker was his bondsman and the company wants $510 from the estate.

Want a Tax Collector.

The county commissioners on Saturday delegated County Surveyor Davis to attend the good roads convention which meets at St. Paul tomorrow. A petition was presented asking for the location of an assistant county treasurer at Virginia to collect taxes. This was referred to state examiner.

GLASS BLOCK STORE.

WASH FABRICS!
LINENS!
WASH FABRICS!

Our Annual January Sale of Linens and Wash Fabrics is Now Going on

And will eclipse everything of the kind ever attempted in this city. We promised our patrons some time since the Greater Glass Block should come during 1895. Here is the first step in that direction—in this great Mid-Winter Linen and Wash Fabric Sale. These sales, long since one of the popular features of the large Eastern retail houses, have not as yet received the encouragement they deserve by the retail buyers of Duluth and vicinity.

Why? Because of the failure of our patrons to appreciate a good thing. But we propose to popularize them if fresh stock, new patterns, large assortment, low prices will do it.

Housekeepers—Wake up and read. Be alive to your best interests by taking a large grip on the good things that past your way. Listen:

$5,000.00 Worth of Wash Fabrics, got where they were made. No cost between manufacturer and our store. Plain enough to see why such handling makes prices we give possible.

$1,500.00 Worth of Manufacturers' Remnants of Hamburg, Nainsook and Swiss Flouncing and Skirting Embroideries bought under the new tariff.

MILWAUKEE FIRE

The Stadt Theater Guttered by Fire and the Deuster Club Rooms Destroyed This Morning.

The Flames Broke Out While Preparations Were Being Made for the Annual Charity Ball.

Detective Benson and Lena Olsen's Sister Left Minneapolis for Chicago to Search for Austin.

They Have a Clue That the Murderer Has Been Living There Since Leaving Duluth.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 15.—Fire broke out in the interior of the stage of the Stadt theater at 11 o'clock this morning while preparations were being made for the annual charity ball, and spread so rapidly that all the decorations were destroyed and the theater gutted. The Deuster club rooms in the same building were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $55,000, partly insured. There are several offices and stores in the building and they will all be considerably damaged by water and smoke. The charity ball will necessarily be postponed. It was to be the swell society event of the season.

The fire was caused by an electric light wire. Several men were engaged in putting up a cluster of lights when suddenly, whether from defective wiring, imperfect insulation or what cause is not known, the cluster of lights in the hands of the men flamed brilliantly and shot forth spluttering sparks. The workmen dropped the lights, and in an instant the flames leaped with lightning-like rapidity upon the draperies and fancy scenery and enveloped all in a mass of fire.

The fire was gotten under control at 12:30 o'clock. While the fire was in progress the directors of the exposition building met and resolved to give the free use of the exposition building, including light and heat to the charity ball.

AGAIN AFTER AUSTIN.

It is recommended that the unexpended balance appropriated to complete a light house at Grand Marais, amounting to $400, be used in the purchase of a site for a light-keeper's station.

The bill carries a total appropriation of $38,540,000, $37,370,000 less than the estimates and $1,170,000 more than the appropriation for the current year.

Power, purity and wholesomeness, the principal qualities of a superior baking powder are found superlatively excellent in Dr. Price's.

FORFEITED THE LEASE.
Cincinnati Iron Company Did Not Pay Williams in the Required Time.

Some time ago John M. Williams' suit against the Cincinnati Iron company, which John McKinley and the Standard Ore company to set aside leases to lands in 58-16, part of the Cincinnati mine, on the ground that the lease had failed to comply with the terms of the lease, was heard and submitted to Judge Lewis. On Jan. 4 Judge Lewis filed his findings, in which he held that the complaint was true and that the lessees had forfeited their rights to the lease. He adjudged, finally, that the leases were void.

A supplementary order was made, however, in which the lessees were allowed to continue their leasehold provided they complied with the terms of the lease and paid up back royalties within ten days. This was allowed in view of the depression in iron which has held for the past year or more. The ten days passed without the defendants complying with the supplementary order, and this morning judgment was entered dissolving and annulling the leases and declaring the title to the lands in dispute to be in the plaintiffs.

The Miners' and Manufacturers' exchange has sued W. C. Sargent et al for $900 on a note. C. Markell, as assignee for H. H. Bell, has sued J. W. Anderson for $2456 on a note. The Bill to Locate a State Normal School at Duluth Introduced by Senator Spencer.

Decision Was Reached This Afternoon to Hold the Senatorial Caucus on Next Friday Evening.

Governor Nelson Stipulated That the Vote Should Be Open and Was Ready to Caucus.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 15.—The house had a novelty for its opening this morning. A number of dead mice were present from Fairbault, and one little girl recited the Lord's prayer in sign language, while the deaf mute band favored the house with the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Yankee Doodle." Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Johnson, to license peddlers. Judiciary committee.

By Foss, for a graduated tax on gifts, bequests, etc. Judiciary.

By Knuteson, allowing cities and villages to amend their charters. Municipal legislation.

By Ferris, establish state fish hatchery, appropriating $25,000 for the purpose. Game and fish laws.

By Gunn, amending the laws of 1893, relating to wolf bounties. Judiciary.

By Mickelson, to regulate passenger train service, requiring regular week days running at all stations. Railroads.

By Underleak, prohibiting aiming firearms at human beings, whether loaded or not. Judiciary.

By McGrath, appropriating $100,000 for drainage in the Red River valley. Judiciary.

A communication from the Commercial clubs of the Twin Cities urging action on the matters of good roads and irrigation was read.

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.
ST. PAUL, Jan. 15.—A Madison, Wis., special to the Dispatch says: The legislature took up regular work today.

Mantle and Carter Chosen.

THE SENATORIAL CAUCUS.
It Will Be Held Next Friday Evening With an Open Vote.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 15.—The senatorial caucus will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Such was the decision of the caucus committee at its meeting this afternoon. The sub-committee, appointed last night to confer with the candidates, reported, and the decision was reached without difficulty.

It is understood that Governor Nelson stipulated that the vote should be open, but that the other candidates made no conditions, and all were ready for the caucus at any time. Senator Greer and Representative Dare were appointed to draw up the call, which will be issued this evening.

The Pioneer Press today made some attempts at placing the members of the legislature on the senatorial. One list, said to have been made up by a Washburn enthusiast, who, however, was not one of the inside leaders, gave Washburn, 71; Nelson, 42; McCleary, 8; Comstock, 8; Doubtful, 11. This list has Senator Spencer with Washburn and Representatives McNinn, Smith and Cant for Nelson.

A second list, by "a careful and impartial observer" gives Washburn, 43; Nelson, 42; Comstock, 12; McCleary, 8; Lind, 3, and doubtful 33. This list has Senator Spencer in the Washburn column, while Representatives McNinn, Smith and Cant are classed as doubtful.

There are several inaccuracies in both lists. The Washburn people do not claim seventy-one as sure, their highest figure thus far having been sixty-seven, and they allow Nelson not to exceed forty, putting his strength below thirty-five usually. The "doubtful" members hold the balance of power and can settle the battle if they go together. This is not likely, however. Many are as favorable to Nelson as to Washburn, liking both. The "dark horse" is still in the fight.

"All these attempts to line the members up at this time amount to absolutely nothing," said Lieut. Governor Clough this morning. "The alignments of none of them are within a row of apple trees being right. As a matter of fact, neither side is gaining votes very fast just now, and we are getting our share. These extravagant claims of the Washburn people are nonsense."

NEW STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.
Bill for a School at Duluth Introduced in the Senate.

ST. PAUL, Jan. 15.—The bill introduced by Senator Spencer to establish a state normal school at Duluth, is as follows: There shall be established, under the direction and supervision of the state normal school board, at the city of Duluth, a normal school, to be known as the state normal school of Duluth.

Provided, said city shall donate to the state a suitable tract (of not less than six acres) of land, to be approved by the normal school board, for the location, use and benefit of said school, within twelve months from the passage of this act.

Provided further, that no money appropriated for the erection of buildings for said school shall be expended until the year 1896.

Senator Greer's bill to transfer the school text books fund to the current school fund, provides that the fund of $50,000 or such part thereof as may now be to the credit of the fund, be transferred to the revenue fund of the state.

Senator Johnson's bill to amend the game laws is aimed at small boys and others who kill wild birds.

JAPANESE SPIES

Correspondence Relating to the Case of Two Japanese Spies Transmitted to the Senate Today.

Secretary Gresham States That There Is Scarcely Any Doubt the Supposed Students Were Spies.

The Prisoners Were Not Boys, But Men and Spies in the Service of Japan.

There Is No Evidence That They Were Tortured Before They Were Put to Death.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The president today sent to the senate the correspondence in the case of the two Japanese spies, together with a letter from the secretary of state, in which it is stated that the American consuls had no authority to protect Japanese in China, except so far as using their good offices when occasion demanded. It was clearly stated to Minister Denby by Minister of Foreign Affairs Mutsu that during the progress of the war Chinese subjects in Japan would be in the direct jurisdiction of Japanese courts and military authorities, and that treaty provisions to the contrary were necessarily abrogated by the war situation. This, of course, carried with it the status of Japanese subjects in China.

The letter further states that there is scarcely any doubt that the supposed students were spies. The secretary in his letter first quotes the senate resolution, requesting the president, if not incompatible with the public interest, to transmit to the senate all correspondence or other papers relating to the delivery by the United States consul at Shanghai of two Japanese citizens to the Chinese authorities and their subsequent death by torture, etc. He then shows the changed status brought about by the war.

"On Aug. 18 the Chinese minister at this capital complained to the undersigned that the United States consul at Shanghai was protecting two Japanese spies who had been arrested in that city and whose surrender was demanded by the Chinese authorities in order that they might be dealt with in due course. After proper inquiry into the circumstances of the case the demand was recognized as lawful and the men were ordered to be given up. This was not done, however, without proper measures being taken to prevent precipitate or summary action by the Chinese authorities. The undersigned at the same time requested (there was no authority to demand it) that the accused men might not be tried until the return of Minister Denby to Peking, it being supposed that this would afford opportunity for investigation and deliberation."

"The Chinese minister at once promised compliance and subsequently informed the undersigned that his government had acceded to the request. Without questioning the lawfulness of the sentence under the laws of war, the undersigned regrets to say that the men were executed about six weeks after their surrender, but before the return of Col. Denby to China. Special attention is invited to the correspondence on this subject. That the prisoners were not boys, but men and spies in the service of Japan, there is little, if any room for doubt. Mr. Jernigan, our consul-general at Shanghai says that when the men were arrested 'plans were found on them,' and that 'the executing papers are safe.' And speaking on the same subject, in a later report, Mr. Jernigan says 'some papers found in their possession would naturally, in a state of war, create a suspicion tending to support the charge.' It is denied that they were tortured."

"From a letter addressed to Mr. Denby, Jr., Aug. 27, by Mr. Fowler, our consul at Ningpo, it appears that a Japanese was arrested in the dress of a Chinese priest at Chin Hai, twenty miles from the Ningpo foreign settlement. In his report to Mr. Denby, Mr. Fowler says: 'I wore for the facts. Taotai replied giving circumstances of trial. Evidence weak and ex parte. Requested delay of punishment for a few days. Just received reply, none of my business, will not answer further dispatches on subject. Shall demand delay.'"

"Mr. Fowler seems not to have understood the nature of the protection he was authorized to afford Japanese within reach of his consulate.

CRUSHED IN THE ICE.
Dr. Hansen's Arctic Expedition Now Probably Retreating.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Pall Mall Gazette says that grave fears for the safety of the Hansen Arctic expedition are general among Arctic voyagers of Great Britain and Scandinavia. Lieut. Hovgaard, of the Diphne expedition, which was wrecked in the Kara sea, has expressed the opinion to the Danish Geographical society that there is no question but the Fram has been crushed in the ice and that Dr. Hansen and his party are retreating.

wonderful progress and prosperity
of its city during the present year
of almost paralyzing commercial
and industrial depression, when it
has been all most centers could do

wonderfully well in every respect,
as shown in The Herald, which, by
the way, is a practical demonstration
of energy and enterprise in keeping with the revival of "the Zenith City of the unsalted seas," a name which it begins to deserve.

Relieve the Honest Debtors.
The letter which the Duluth jobbers union has forwarded to the Minnesota senators in relation to the Bailey bankruptcy bill, which is now pending in the senate, will leave the senators considerably in the dark as to what the jobbers desire. In the first place they say that they believe in a bill "that will assist the honest debtor in regaining his business independence." With this sentiment everyone will agree. It is the great object that is sought by the passage of a national bankruptcy bill at this time. The conditions at present are exceptional. The country has passed through a serious business depression and every business man has undergone a severe trial. The country is strewn with commercial wrecks. It is highly desirable that the wrecks shall be removed from the pathway of commerce, so that business may proceed in the old channels. So long as there are numerous obstructions of this character, it is manifestly impossible that the country can regain its prosperity.
There are thousands of men throughout the Union who are now in bondage to creditors. They are shackled by obligations which they can never meet, so long as they are not free to accumulate any property or go into any business without incurring the danger of seizure by a relentless creditor. It has been sought by means of a national bankruptcy bill to provide a method whereby the independence and freedom of these men may be restored and they may be enabled to begin business life anew and free from all obligations. It is a safe proposition that nearly every man who has been forced to the wall during the financial panic has made great sacrifices and has practically nothing left. Their creditors should be willing to share the burden by taking what dividends the estates will provide and then release them from further liability. That the relief thus afforded to the large debtor class would be of great benefit to the entire country cannot be doubted.
But while the letter to the senators by the jobbers' union expresses this sentiment at the start, it winds up with a declaration that would practically nullify
it. In suggesting amendments to the Bailey bill, the union says: "We would suggest that a clause be inserted similar in effect to the one in our state law, which has worked fairly satisfactorily,
that it may be optional with the creditor
whether or not he participate in the division of the estate." The addition of such an amendment to the Bailey bill would utterly defeat the great purpose of the bill at this extraordinary period in the business world. It would place it within the power of any creditor to keep the debtor in the condition of bondage and to prevent him from ever shaking off the shackles that now hinder his rise.

A creditor who had a feeling of enmity towards a debtor could keep him down forever. All incentive to the debtor to regain his former position in the business world would be removed. His ambition would be destroyed, his hope crushed.

It is to change this very state of affairs that a national bankruptcy law is needed. The clause of the state law to which the jobbers' union refers has not worked satisfactorily. It may have been satisfactory to a few creditors in a few special cases, but its general effect has been bad. Give the honest debtors of this country a chance to regain their feet, but do not place it within the power of any disgruntled creditor to knock them down again with a club of this character.

Abolish the Court.
A West Duluth correspondent today,
in discussing Mr. Merchant's plan to relieve tax-burdened people by remission of tax penalties and interest, draws attention to the necessity of reducing the expense of running the municipal government. In this connection he expresses surprise that steps are not being taken to have the legislature repeal the law under which Municipal Court No. 2 has an existence. There is absolutely no necessity for this court, as The Herald's correspondent asserts, and it is a needless expense. The judge of that court has practically nothing to do, and he receives $2000 a year. Then there is a clerk, and a court officer is also attached to this court, both drawing salaries for doing nothing.

If our representatives in the legislature desire to do something meritorious
they will promptly introduce a bill abolishing this court and have it passed under suspension of the rules before the date of the city election. This can be done, and the expense of the court saved during the coming year. Mr.
Cant is the only lawyer on the delegation and would naturally be the proper man to introduce such a bill. He knows well that there is no work for the second court to do and the judge and clerk are receiving salaries for doing nothing.

The claim that people at the western end of the city should not be obliged to travel to the central court is very weak.
It is not a long distance, in comparison with the distance that people in other cities are obliged to travel in order to reach the courts. It is but a short ride in the street car. But if this reason for keeping the second municipal court open were a good one, why should it not be demanded that a branch of the district court be established in the western part of the city? Of course this would be absurd, but it is not any more ridiculous than maintaining an expensive municipal court there which has little or no business.

And now the News Tribune falls behind the shelter of the law. It did not charge Mr. Miller with dishonesty, but "the only trouble is in the law which does not say anything about honesty of purpose and lowest bids." Shylock did fall back upon the law. He wanted his pound of flesh because it was so nominated in the bond and the law declared that the provisions of the bond should be carried out. But Shylock did not get what he wanted. His revengeful demand was not gratified. Neither will the News Tribune get its pound of flesh.

The great Farber anti-toxin factory at Hoechst ober Main uses seventy-six horses to mature the anti-diphtheria serum. There were two experts who tested the serum, but proved failures.
The factory named produces
enough serum for 2000 patients daily,
and as the matter absolutely improves
with age, for a period of sixty days, the number of patients treated from it is enormous. Germany alone used to lose 50,000 patients from diphtheria, but the fatalities are now reduced 75 per cent.

A Kansas City dispatch tells of the arrest of a farmer who was walking along the street dressed in ridiculous fashion, as an advertisement for a local firm. It would be interesting to know upon what charge the farmer was arrested, and for what offense he would be tried. There is no law against a man making himself ridiculous in appearance. If there was such a law, the Kansas farmer would have plenty of company in jail.

A curious case of possession of a body transpired in Waco, Tex., a few days ago. The body of a murdered desper-ado, who was killed and buried in 1859, was discovered petrified. The thrifty husband of the finder put it on exhibition, but it was shortly seized by a man to whom he owed $130. Thereupon the wife reclaimed it as her property, and carried on the exhibition. A queer sort of treasure trove.

It appears that the aviarie of a rich cattle man in Oklahoma, is responsible for the birth of the Cook gang. Learning that a neighbor was to receive $300, he primed Bill Cook to annex it on shares, and the process proving easy,
Col. Cook adopted his new profession.
In irony of justice, the cattle man is enjoying his share in tranquility, as nothing can be proved against him.

put down pugilism there, thus exhausting the military fund of the state for 1893 and 1894. But even if the cost was great it was a good work and Governor
Matthews deserves credit for it.

In Milwaukee they are talking of reducing the street car fares, and it is proposed to begin by making 3 cents the fare of those of the passengers who are not provided with seats.

There is also a law against attempted bribery. The News Tribune should not forget to read the clause of the penal code on this subject.

To Teach Duluth.
Duluth Commonwealth. We have had newspaper men arrive at different times to teach Duluth what journalism was like. There were two experts who tested the serum, but proved failures.
The factory named produces
enough serum for 2000 patients daily,
and as the matter absolutely improves
with age, for a period of sixty days, the number of patients treated from it is enormous. Germany alone used to lose 50,000 patients from diphtheria, but the fatalities are now reduced 75 per cent.

What we have learned from this distinguished teacher so far is that in St.
Paul they bribe an official board with oyster suppers and theater tickets when they want a contract and lampoon any member who will not consent to their bribe-taking. That is journalism. In St. Paul they do a man with flattery and browbeat when glucose won't catch flies. In St. Paul they cater to snobbish-ness in society, to pinhead in business, to Pecksniffian politics.

These are not the personal traits of the St. Paul graduate who is teaching us now as five minutes' intercourse with his amiability and native manners will show.
It is his schooling. And Duluth fails to appreciate it.
Duluth never did fancy journalism and has always been as well satisfied with home brewed methods as with the metropolitan devices inculcated by apostles from Boston and St. Paul.

Duluth has an old-fashioned prejudice in favor of publishing the best news for the money and getting advertising value given. The apostle from St. Paul may find it profitable before he is long to concede something to this local prejudice.

The Oil Regions Prosper.
Oil City, Pa., Derrick: The year 1894 will prove to be credit a record production of 30,000,000 barrels of oil from the Pennsylvania fields. This is only 750,000 barrels short of the production of 1893. But while the production is high, the discussion price of 64 cents in 1893, the oil
he produced in 1894 brought him over 64 cents a barrel. About 2000 new wells were drilled in 1894, while 3000 nearly double the number were completed in 1893. The demand for Pennsylvania oil showed no diminution during the year, having aggregated over 35,000,000 bar-

TWO CLEVER FORGERS

They Were Arrested Yesterday at Virginia and Have Been Using Their Pens Too Freely.

Names of Several Duluth Lumber Firms Were Signed to National Bank of Commerce Checks.

They Dress as Woodsmen But Their Work is Done in a Very Clever Manner.

Two men were arrested at Virginia yesterday who may turn out to be a clever pair of forgers who are badly wanted in different parts of the country. Sunday J. D. Taylor, assistant county attorney at Virginia, telegraphed the sheriff that two checks had been passed upon merchants at Virginia, one purporting to be signed by the Bradley & Hanford Lumber company and the other by the Mitchell & McClure Lumber company. The sheriff obtained definite information about the checks, and after an investigation concluded that they were forgeries.

The checks were very cleverly done, due attention being paid to little details, which would be likely to be missed by novices. The Bradley & Hanford check was for $26, payable to Sam Smith. The Mitchell & McClure check was for $40, payable to Joe Bush. Both were on the National Bank of Commerce, and their spuriousness was not discovered until they were sent to the bank, when it was discovered that neither of these firms had any accounts with the Bank of Commerce.

When this was discovered warrants were sworn out for the men and they passed the checks. They had already been arrested on suspicion, and will be brought to Duluth tonight. After they have been arrested another check purporting to be signed by Mitchell & McClure turned up from Mountain Iron. It was for $10, and was payable to John Beaver. From this it would appear that the men had been making a tour of the range towns, distributing false checks for good money until they were apprehended.

The names of the men are not yet known, except for the names of the payees on the checks, which are of course fictitious. They are dressed as woodsmen, and as their work is not at all like that one would expect from woodsmen, their game has been pretty successful. The chief of police lately received a letter from the sheriff at Eau Claire inquiring after two forgers he had traced as far as Duluth, where he had lost sight of them. Their descriptions tally in some respects with those of the men arrested at Virginia, and they may be the same.

Surely nothing but their cheapness could enable them to make an experiment with questionable baking powders at the risk of health and comfort when the facts prove that they have a perfectly pure and unadulterated powder in Dr. Price's. It stands supreme.

ALMOST ASPHYXIATED.

Defective Gas Jet Gave Dr. McComb a Close Call Last Night.

Dr. McComb came uncomfortably near being asphyxiated last night. When those who office in the Phoenix building came down this morning about 8 o'clock they encountered a bad stench of gas in the hallways. The engineer in charge was summoned and he, entering Dr. McComb's lodgings, which adjoin his office, found him in a semi-conscious condition. Medical aid was summoned and in a short time the doctor was pretty well relieved, although he kept his bed all the forenoon. The leakage of the gas was due to a defective gas fixture.

Answers a Defendant.

In the case of the Ainslie Land and Mining company, Fred Barrett, the Ohio Mining company et al, the complainant has filed in the United States court a replication to the answer of defendant James Sheridan. The defendant will answer, maintain and prove its bill to be true, certain and sufficient in the law to be answered unto by the defendant, and that the answer of the defendant is very uncertain, evasive and insignificant in law to be replied to by the replicant.

MR. BONHAM'S VIEW.

He Speaks of the Attack on Commissioner Miller—Some More Facts.

Ex-County Commissioner W. G. Bonham, of Tower, was in the city yesterday. He was asked what he thought of the News Tribune's attack on Commissioner Miller, with whom he served on the board for two years. He expressed his disgust and said it was easy to see what prompted the whole thing.

"Mr. Miller will not lose any friends by that. How on earth could he get a contract from the board without the approval of the other commissioners and do they mean to say that the rest of us were in any deal? The Duluth Paper company put in their bid for furnishing the county with stationery and it was the lowest. That company would have received the contract even if Commissioner Miller had voted against it. The amount of material furnished by the company amounts to almost nothing when compared with some of the other supply contracts let.

"Then again, I examined that law which the News Tribune quotes and I did not believe then nor do I now, that it applies to Commissioner Miller's case.

No one after serving on the board with Mr. Miller could think of him leading any of the others around by the nose as he is pictured in the News Tribune. Just think of Charley Miller leading Capt. Morcom, of Tower, around by the nose! It is more likely if any leading is to be done that Capt. Morcom will be doing it. The public, now, now, now, made a cat's paw of by any man."

A number of details concerning this matter have leaked out since the News Tribune's attack. The public, now, now, now, well aware that the morning paper's manager gave a private dinner party at Boyle's for the commissioners on the evening of the day the bids for the county printing were opened and before the contract was awarded. People are drawing their own conclusions as to why it was given. Commissioners Miller and Morcom were not there although invited. There was a little party of four, however, and rumor says the bill came to $5. A box at the opera house was provided for the entertainment of the commissioners.
